Field Determined for 2018 Intercollegiate Team Championships

ITC

ARLINGTON, Texas – The teams that will compete for the Kerm Helmer Cup at the 2018 Intercollegiate Team Championships were determined at four sectional qualifiers this weekend.

The 16 women's and 16 men's teams will travel to Sun Valley Lanes in Lincoln, Nebraska, from April 19-21 in hopes of claiming the coveted title in their respective division at the pinnacle event of the United States Bowling Congress Collegiate season.

Both the women's and men's finals will be taped for broadcast and televised on CBS Sports Network in May.

The teams advancing to the ITC were determined through four sectionals across the country – Stratford, New Jersey; Smyrna, Tennessee; Fairview Heights, Illinois; and Dallas – with the top four teams in each division earning spots in Lincoln.

Each sectional consisted of 64 Baker games over two days, with total pinfall determining the top four in each division.

In Stratford, the Sacred Heart women reclaimed the overall lead in the final game, firing a 233 to finish at the top of the standings with a 12,779 total. Delaware State finished second with 12,735, Notre Dame-Ohio was third with 12,560 and Schenectady CCC earned its first trip to the ITC with a fourth-place finish (12,267).

The William Paterson men nearly led from wire-to-wire in Stratford, finishing with 13,482. Webber International (13,243), Notre Dame-Ohio (12,474) and Morehead State (12,385) also advanced.

The St. Francis-Illinois women rolled in Smyrna, posting a 12,605 total to pace the field. Savannah College of Art and Design-Savannah (12,485), Maryland Eastern Shore (12,280) and first-time ITC qualifier Alabama-Birmingham (12,214) also will be heading to Lincoln.

The Robert Morris-Illinois men cruised to a 900-pin victory in Smyrna, finishing with a 13,413 total. St. Francis-Illinois (12,513) and Savannah College of Art and Design-Savannah (12,464) will make their ITC debuts after finishing second and fourth, respectively, while Wisconsin-Whitewater (12,469) made a furious run in the final 16 games to make up a nearly 300-pin deficit and jump from seventh to third in

Field Set for 2018 Intercollegiate Singles Championships

ARLINGTON, Texas – The 48 players advancing to the 2018 Intercollegiate Singles Championships were determined Friday through four qualifying events held throughout the United States.

The 2018 ISC field will feature 24 men and 24 women competing for individual national titles April 17-18 at Sun Valley Lanes in Lincoln, Nebraska. Both the men's and women's finals will be taped April 21 for broadcast on CBS Sports Network and begin to air in late April.

At each of the four sectionals Friday, participants bowled six games, with the top four men and top four women guaranteed to advance. The eight additional men and eight additional women who advanced were determined based on the number of entries at each sectional.

Webber International's Matt Russo led the men's qualifying in Stratford, New Jersey, posting a 1,381 total. Joining Russo from Stratford are Thomas Wisnewski of Stevens Institute; Andrew Dekowski of William Paterson; Michael Ruben of SUNY-Stony Brook; Adam Glickman of Webber; Matthew Miller of Concordia; and Evan Baranecky of Webber.

Fairleigh Dickinson's Amanda Chrzanowksi rolled games of 233 and 238 to jump from 11th place to the lead with a 1,288 total. The other advancers from Stratford are Alexis Neuer of Delaware State; Makayla Lancioni of Concordia; Laura Branch of Rochester Institute of Technology; Jacqueline Evans of Monmouth; Jenna Harrington of Franklin Pierce; and Emma Catone of St. Francis-New York.

Bryan Bourget of Robert Morris-Illinois earned the top spot in the men's field in Smyrna, Tennessee, pacing the

World Bowling, PBA Announce 2018 World Bowling Tour Schedule

Nine-event schedule begins March 10-18 with Brunswick Euro Challenge in Munich

CHICAGO (March 9, 2018) – World Bowling, the international governing body for tenpin bowling, and the Professional Bowlers Association have announced a nine-tournament PBA International-World Bowling Tour schedule for 2018, beginning March 10-18 when England's Dom Barrett will try to defend his title in the Brunswick Euro Challenge at Dream-Bowl Palace in Munich, Germany.

The PBA International-WBT schedule awards PBA Tour titles if the winner is a PBA member and, if a woman, she does not accept "handicap pins" as part of her score. The PBA-WBT series awards points which are used to qualify players for the end-of-season WBT Men's and Women's Finals.

The Brunswick Euro Challenge also could play a role in the 2018 PBA Tour Finals set for early May in Allen Park, Mich. Composite PBA

IBMA Welcomes Storm Bowling as the Collegiate Bowlers of the Year Sponsor

IBMA International Bowling Media Association

STORM THE BOWLER'S COMPANY

ARLINGTON, Texas – Storm Bowling Products has agreed to a two year pilot sponsorship of the International Bowling Media Collegiate Bowlers of the Year Award. The award was established in 1987 to recognize and honor male and female bowlers for their outstanding accomplishments in collegiate competition and is presented each year during the Intercollegiate Team Championships at the awards banquet.

"Once again, Storm Bowling steps up to support collegiate bowling," said Keith Hamilton, president of IBMA. "With sponsorship from Storm, the IBMA College Bowlers of the Year will get a nice upgrade, a tribute to our three decade tradition of honoring the best collegiate players."

"We are very excited to be able to sponsor this prestigious award," said Steve Kloempken, Storm's Vice President of Marketing. "Since it can only be

During the Winter Olympics, Associated Press reporter Kristen Gelineau looked at an Olympic sport that doesn't usually get a lot of looks, until something unique happens, like a group of 'rejects' come out of nowhere to win the men's gold medal.

She explains curling requires players to treat opponents with kindness, and as an example, winners have been known to treat losers to a beer. In World Curling Federation rules, it states its athletes, "play to win, but never to humble their opponents, nor prevent them from playing their best, and would prefer them to lose rather than win unfairly."

Back in the November 26, 2015 TBN, I explained how curling was another friction-oriented sport dealing with advancing technology. There was a new type of bristle material that would change the ice surface much faster than existing brooms, thus giving players more control than ever before on a stone skidding down the ice. Keep in mind, a curling broom head resembles a larger version of a fine, short-bristled brush, something you would use to clean a vinyl LP album, so the bristles are not very large.

The reasoning of the WCF was simple, it compromised the integrity of the sport. A top Scottish curler told the BBC he believed the brush, now banned, "did away with some of the athleticism and the skill that is in the sport."

In this age of refined trash-talking and ultra-competitiveness, curlers are uber-sportsmanlike, going as far to police themselves in matches – requiring minimal work for referees. From the outside, it looks very much like 1950's 'Leave It To Beaver', quite bland for today's world. As American curling begins to see an interest spike, part of their code is teaching the youth true sportsmanship, improving one's talent, while acknowledging an opponent's good fortune.

##########

With the United States men's gold medal win two weeks ago, named by some as the 'MiraCurl on Ice', the quite bland curling world and its culture may end up with a moment on the silver screen. In what started as a Twitter exchange, actor Nick Offerman, best known as the mustached award-winning wood-worker Ron Swanson on NBC's 'Parks and Recreation' series, wants to be first in line to play U.S. Olympic curler Matt Hamilton, who also sports similar facial hair, in a possible feature biopic on the historic win.

Curling became an official Olympic sport in 1998, after several other appearances as a demonstration sport, and was an original sport in the first Winter Games in 1924. Imagine if bowling had been accepted after its previous demonstration sport appearance in the 1988 Seoul Summer Games. Even with the feature films 'Kingpin' and 'The Big Lebowski', where would we be now?

##########

One of the joys I get from running the IBMA Bowler of the Month Committee for the last eight-plus years is informing the monthly selector his or her good fortune. Some have won it more than a few times, but it's the first time winners who give some of the more unique reactions. The most recent was informing Matt O'Grady he is the IBMA Kegel February 2018 Bowler of the Month, on running the stepladder finals at the 53rd PBA Tournament of Champions at its long-time home, AMF Riviera Lanes.

After noticing Lane 27 appeared to hook a little earlier than Lane 28, I remembered that's what Jack Biondolillo told me he saw during his TV 300 game in 1967 on the very same pair.

Back then, it was the original wood surface. A new wood surface was installed in the late 1980's, and the current surface, AMF HPL was installed in the 1990's. I've been trying to find evidence on the second wood surface, but to have a similar reaction on two different surfaces fifty-one years apart confirms an observation many have found. The same reaction on three surfaces would be uncanny. Even with a different surface, hook characteristics can be similar. O'Grady also said out of curiosity, he would like to see the topography on both lanes. I have a few inquiries out to others who have bowled on that legendary pair at AMF Riviera and will let you know what they say.

As Randy Pedersen mentioned during Keven Williams' appearance on the PBA 60th Anniversary show, he's produced videos for his own hip hop music, so he's no stranger to a video production. He's also a contributor to what could be a very unique YouTube channel.

Officially titled the 'Greater Ozarks Pro Shop' channel, pro shop manager Kyndall Martin and Williams put together a channel-opening promo promising ball reviews, various lessons, live streams from the Greater Ozarks tourney, and interviews with various bowlers.

One thing they've done with a few ball reviews is use a drone flying above the lanes, following ball paths down the lane. Imagine a more extreme view compared to the look from the bleachers at the National Bowling Stadium or houses with an upstairs lounge behind the concourse.

Even though a handful of television stations have started to use drones for news and video gathering, WQAD-TV, the ABC affiliate in Moline, Illinois being one, indoor use is not something I've seen until now.

PBA REGIONAL PROGRAM HEADS INTO 49TH SEASON

As the PBA celebrates its 60th anniversary season in 2018, the PBA Regional program – born in 1969 with the inaugural PBA Regional Players Championship at Kingpin Lanes in Cincinnati – heads into its 49th year of providing a proving ground for aspiring PBA Tour players as well as a closer-to-home, more affordable arena for bowlers who were unable to compete full-time on the PBA Tour.

Over the years, the PBA Regional program has cultivated its own set of stars. Some players who used the regional program to develop their skills, like PBA Hall of Famers Pete Weber, Walter Ray Williams Jr. and Mike Scroggins, became superstars. Others – like Chris Warren (feature photo), Dale Traber and Ross Packard – became highly successful at the regional levels. A few – like Harry Sullins, Tom Baker and Ron Mohr – found the PBA50 regional program as a perfect outlet to extend their careers.

Since its inception, the PBA Regional program has conducted nearly 6,400 tournaments and awarded titles to just under 1,850 different players.

As the regional program heads into the 2018 season, here are top 10 lists of players who have excelled in PBA's regional competition. The top 10 in combined standard and PBA50 regional titles is a tie between frequent PBA Midwest Region opponents, Dale Traber of Cedarburg, Wis., and Pete Weber of St. Ann, Mo., both with a total of 52 titles. Weber and Chris Warren, a Texas native who found a new home in Grants Pass, Ore., are tied for most standard PBA Regional titles with 47. Sullins, who hails from Chesterfield Township, Mich., leads the PBA50 Regional list with 22 titles, four ahead of PBA Hall of Famer Tom Baker of King, N.C.

During openings in the PBA Tour schedule, regional competition is abundant in all seven domestic PBA Regions: East, South, Central, Midwest, Southwest, West and Northwest. Schedules and entry information can be found on pba.com, and a "frequently asked questions" for regional newcomers can be found under the "FAQs" tab on pba.com (https://www.pba.com/Resources/Faqs).

Career Standard and PBA50 Regional Titles

Construction of the USBC Open Championship lanes at The OnCenter Convention Center in Syracuse was completed and shown off in a press conference last Tuesday. Longtime Syracuse Post-Standard bowling writer M.F. Piraino started her multimedia coverage as construction began several months ago. Her weekly onsite reports showed progress of the construction and showed a few behind-the-scenes photos and videos of the layout. Those reports and others through the tournament can be found on the Post-Standard newspaper site, www.syracuse.com/bowling/.

earned by outpacing thousands of incredibly-talented student athletes, the Collegiate Bowler of the Year award is always held in the highest regard. And one can earn it only through a deep commitment to mastering the elements of our sport and competing at the highest level."

Kloempken won the award in 1995 when he bowled for Wichita State. Other standout winners include Chris Barnes, Lynda (Norry) Barnes (2), Josh Blanchard, AJ Johnson (2), Liz Johnson, Marshall Kent, Kelly Kulick (2), Stefanie (Nation) Johnson, Bill O'Neill (3), Missy (Bellinder) Parkin, Shannon Pluhowsky and Michael Tang.

The committee, comprised of eight to ten members of the media, first selects the top eight players, male and female, then votes by weighted ballot to determine the four Honorable Mention, three Runners Up and the Bowlers of the Year. Each honoree receives an award. Kloempken and Diandra Asbaty will be added to the committee.

PBA'S "60 MOST MEMORABLE MOMENTS" UNVEILING CONTINUES: 56 THRU 60

The countdown to unveil the complete list of the PBA"s "60 most memorable moments" in its 60-year history continues, one a day, Monday through Friday, on PBA's social media outlets. The top 10 moments were announced on PBA's ESPN telecast of the Go Bowling! PBA 60th Anniversary Classic. Last week, "memorable moments" 60 through 56 were unveiled. Here are those five moments as the countdown continues:

56) Pete Weber tied for sixth place on the all-time PBA Tour titles list by winning his 26th title in the 2001 Great Lakes Classic. During that telecast, Weber also rolled a 299 in the semifinal match. It was one of the early telecasts under the "new" PBA ownership.

57) Sean Rash became the first player to bowl two nationally-televised 300 games in PBA Tour competition in the 2015 TOC semifinal match. His first came in the PBA Wolf Open in Shawnee, Okla., in 2014.

58) The PBA Lane Maintenance program was created midway through the 1971 season.

59) Bob Vespi and Chris Warren staged a tense duel in the 1991 Florida Open title match with Warren throwing three strikes in the 10th to win, 211-208.

60) The Dallas Strikers recorded the PBA League's first televised team Baker 300 game in 2016 at Bayside Bowl in Portland, Maine.

To check on releases of subsequent "moments" as they are revealed, check the PBA Network: PBA on Facebook (www.facebook.com/ProfessionalBowlersAssociation) or Instagram (pbatour); subscribe to the PBA channel on YouTube (PBABowling); tweet along on Twitter (@pbatour), and on the web: https://www.pba.com/PBANetwork/MostMemorableMoments.

NEW JERSEY "BOWLER" WINS 60TH ANNIVERSARY "CHALLENGE" SWEEPESTAKES

John Ezekiel of Paulsboro, N.J., tried to out-score Go Bowling! PBA 60th Anniversary Classic champion Jakob Butturff's 244 winning total 100 times, but it only took one of those scores to win Concrete Software's "PBA 60th Anniversary Classic Challenge" sweepstakes.

The sweepstakes invited PBA Bowling Challenge Mobile Game users to "bowl" as often as they wanted to try to beat Butturff's winning score for a chance to win a bowling pin signed by the winner plus 5,000 Gold Pins. Ezekiel was one of 15,255 players who bowled a total of 48,749 games in the contest, including one the standings.

In Fairview Heights, the Lindenwood women earned the top spot with a 13,424 total. Grand View was second with 13,061, while Stephen F. Austin (13,055) and St. Ambrose (12,798) claimed the final two spots.

The Calumet men earned their 12th consecutive trip to the ITC after posting the top score in Fairview Heights (13,259). Arizona State (13,182), Lindenwood (13,132) and St. Ambrose (13,012) will join Calumet at Sun Valley Lanes.

The Wichita State women successfully defended their sectional title in Dallas, claiming the victory with a 12,435 total. Defending ITC champion McKendree finished second with 12,175, while Newman (12,040) and William Penn (11,758) rounded out the field from Dallas.

McKendree claimed the men's title in Dallas, earning the top spot with 13,118. Midland (12,693), Wichita State (12,634) and William Penn (12,350) also advanced.

The weekend also included qualifying for the Intercollegiate Singles Championships, and the top individual performers Friday at each sectional also qualified for a trip to Lincoln and will have the opportunity to claim a national title at the ISC, which will be held at Sun Valley Lanes on April 17-18.

The ISC field will include 24 men and 24 women, and the finals of the ISC will be taped April 21 for broadcast on CBS Sports Network.

sectional, finishing with a 1,258 total. She is joined from Dallas by Kristen Machacek of Newman; Kaitlyn Rudy of Wichita State; and Abigail Goldsberry of Iowa Central CC.

Defending ISC champion Sydney Brummett of Wichita State will not defend her title after finishing in 16th place in Dallas.

Sectional competition for the rest of the weekend now will focus on team play. The ITC qualifying events will take place Saturday and Sunday.

Total pinfall for 64 Baker games will determine the top four men's and top four women's teams from each site that will advance to the ITC, also taking place at Lincoln's Sun Valley Lanes from April 19-21.

PBA REGIONAL UPDATE: RICKY SCHISSLER PERFECT IN COLORADO VICTORY

Ricky Schissler of Brighton, Colo., rolled a perfect game to defeat 2016 USBC Masters champion Anthony Simonsen of Austin, Texas, in the final match of the sixth annual PBA Lakewood Storm Southwest Super Regional, presented by New American Funding, at Holiday Lanes in Lakewood, Colo., on Sunday.

Schissler, a PBA member since 1988, thrilled his hometown fans with a 300-215 victory over Simonsen to complete a challenging climb to his first title in standard PBA regional competition. The 53-year-old Schissler won his only previous PBA title last October in a PBA50 regional in Junction City, Kan.. His first title in standard regional competition included a $5,000 prize.

After qualifying in 12th place, Schissler defeated amateur Michael Smith from Centennial, Colo., 2-0, in a best-of-three-game Round of 16 match. In the Round of 12, he escaped with a 2-0 victory over Canada's Francois Lavoie, PBA's 2016 Rookie of the Year. In the Round of 8, Schissler put away 2016 PBA Player of the Year E.J. Tackett of Huntington, Ind., 2-0, which moved him into the semifinal round where he eliminated Michael Steele of Abilene, Texas, 215-180.

Simonsen, who turned 21 in January, earned his berth in the title match by eliminating Anthony Coats of Pflugerville, Texas, 2-1, in the Round of 8, and defeating PBA Hall of Famer Norm Duke of Clermont, Fla., 218-180, in his semifinal match.
