Silver Lake Atom Splitters Sweep Philadelphia Hitmen to Win Third PBA League Elias Cup

Chris Barnes' key 10th frame leads to second Mark Roth PBA League MVP Award

PORTLAND, Maine – The Go Bowling! Silver Lake Atom Splitters became the first team to win three OceanView at Falmouth PBA League Elias Cup championships, winning in a dominant performance over the Sysco Philadelphia Hitmen at Bayside Bowl.

The two match, best-of-two-game finals, part of the 2018 Go Bowling! PBA Tour schedule, aired Sunday as the PBA Tour's final telecast on ESPN.

Silver Lake, the winner of back-to-back Elias Cups in 2014 and '15, ended a two-year dry spell in a sweep over the Hitmen, who had never bowled in the Elias Cup finals. After a dominant semifinal round win over the Barbasol Motown Muscle, the Atom Splitters' Jesper Svensson, Dick Allen, AJ Johnson, Tom Daugherty and Chris Barnes had only one close call in a four-game sweep.

After winning the opening game, 248-189, on the strength of seven strikes in the first eight frames, game two came down to a 10th frame showdown where Atom Splitters' anchor Barnes threw three strikes to force Matt Sanders to match the effort to force a roll-off. Sanders ran the Hitmen's string of strikes five, but on his final ball in the 10th frame, Sanders left a 9 pin and Silver Lake claimed a 216-215 decision.

With match one secured, and Philadelphia running into spare-shooting difficulties, Silver Lake easily won game three, 202-163. The Atom

McEwan Wins 2018 PWBA Fountain Valley Open

Danielle McEwan

FOUNTAIN VALLEY, Calif. – Mother's Day is a day each year where children honor their mothers for being great, and Danielle McEwan of Stony Point, New York, gave her mother an early present Saturday by winning the Professional Women's Bowling Association Fountain Valley Open.

McEwan, the No. 3 seed, ran the stepladder and defeated Bryanna Coté of Red Rock, Arizona, in the title match, 215-182, to win her fourth career PWBA Tour title. In the process, she joined last week's PWBA Sonoma County Open champion Shannon O'Keefe of O'Fallon, Illinois, as the only

Just Paying Attention

By Mark London
Mark@TheBowlingNews.net

The next step to promote a product or service has been evolving to full throttle for awhile in the internet era, gaining even more speed in the last ten years. In the words of a famous fictional sportscaster, if you wanted to get a message out many years ago, exposure on three television networks and in ten national magazines of various interests was all you needed.

But not anymore. In this era of both internet websites and numerous social media outlets, something on television or magazines can easily get lost. So the target group may not get fully hit, the younger demographic gets missed or may not care at all, and often it's a combination of the two.

The following are examples in two different sports on how promoting the product has changed. Traditional methods and sources are still used, but nowadays, who is producing them has also changed.

One new video series this year, '2018 PWBA On The Road', produced by USBC's bowl.tv, is hosted by the voice of the PWBA on PBA XtraFrame, Emil Williams, Jr.

The season opening eighteen-minute episode, shot on site from the Las Vegas Open featured Williams talking with PWBA regulars on the lanes and on CBS Sports Network telecasts. Analyst Kelly Kulick and sideline reporter Shannon O'Keefe, discussed their thoughts on the upcoming season.

The series will have different players on each week, explaining their time on and off the lanes, which is good for two fairly obvious reasons. First, the players get face time on the show for the fans, the ones watching them week after week. It's rarely dull to hear the life of a professional athlete, especially those rare ones whose potential earnings depends on weekly performance.

The second is for the players. Once players are seen on camera, they present and represent themselves to fans and potential sponsors. Seeing them on the lanes is one thing, but to see them talk on camera allows fans and sponsors to see them as people, out doing their job.

For example, when a local television crew asks for players to promote that week's tournament before competition begins, if there are a variety of players who appear confident and are comfortable on camera, that alone speaks volumes on the type of organization the players represent. A true positive picture for player, tournament group, and any possible sponsors who might be watching.

Now of the next two examples, the first has roots a few years back, but the latter is much newer and the latest example of promotion and entrepreneurship.

The first of these two I profiled several weeks ago, the YouTube Channel put together by PBA touring pros Brad Miller and Kyle Sherman simply titled, 'Brad and Kyle'.

These days, there are numerous goals to putting events and segments of one's life online for anyone to see as long as the webpage exists (YouTube being a Google property, take the 'over' on 'forever', or as long as the video creator wants you to see it). One goal is to 'promote your brand', even if it's you're the brand. Another is just to show how much fun they have on and off the lanes as they live their lives on tour. Brad and Kyle's page falls closer to the latter.

It could be fair to say they pull back the big blue curtain, as the movie 'Wizard of Oz' does to an extent. But why do they do all this? You wouldn't think there is time to prepare to bowl a professional tour, then shoot and edit their videos. They explain why in their Day 4 Portland episode. Simply, they really enjoy what they do and want to inspire others by paying it forward.

Their latest episode released May 9 is a nine-minute message on how to prepare for Junior Gold. But, this isn't for only bowlers, it's for parents, too. Kyle talks about various strategies that helped him get from missing the first cut his first two tries, into becoming a Jr. Team USA selection. Sherman explains many different things and is a great primer for those heading to Jr. Gold in a few months.

Another player-produced video series that got its initial momentum several years ago is the Facebook-based 'The Shafanie Show.' Started by PWBA champions, Team USA members, and longtime friends Shannon O'Keefe and Stefanie Johnson.

These two have shot and produced some really cute and funny videos, at times poking fun at themselves, even garnering a positive response from a professional comedian friend of mine. With their busy schedules, I hope they can find some time to shoot more videos as they bowl the PWBA Tour this summer.

The final example is definitely a type pretty much unheard of until the internet era when videos could be uploaded and seen with various types of viewing software. Although it's not bowling-oriented, I wouldn't be surprised if we see one of these soon in our little corner of the world.

Mega MLB baseball fan and ball hawk Zack Hample is one of the most popular YouTube personalities of the internet era. Since 2007, Hample has over 245,000 subscribers to his YouTube Channel while being recognized for something many of us dream about while attending a professional game. Catching a game-used baseball, something he has done over 10,000 times.

While mostly on YouTube and Twitter, Hample has even authored a how-to book on the best ways to come up with a souvenir. His most famous catch in the stands was of Yankee Alex Rodriguez's 3,000th hit, a home run, first keeping, then later giving the ball to A-Rod. Like the style of much of today's video clips, it is not a slick in-studio production. But you have to understand today's video presentation styles are more cinema verite' (freestyle, like the movie 'Blair Witch Project') because the core audience (30 and younger) is used to seeing things shot that way.

Former New York Yankee and current Miami Marlins CEO, Derek Jeter, started perhaps the highest-profile player's news site in 2014. 'The Players' Tribune' allows athletes from many different sports to write and produce their own video stories, minus different biases found in mass media.

So it really is more than sports leagues and associations producing their own video pieces and packages, with these being just a few examples. As time goes by, more media understanding and sophistication is learned and understood, and used for the better by players and superfans. This may be a topic worth exploring further in this year's annual Troy Walker Media analysis columns in August.

##############

Finally this week, friend of the column and television meteorologist John Gerard, who talked with JPA about his enjoyment of the game and subsequent, near Pro-Am win at one of the PBA Long Island Open tournaments in the 1970's, will be returning to familiar ground. He'll be a fill-in and weekend weatherman on Fort Lauderdale's ABC Local 10, WPLG-TV starting May 25.

After eight games, the top one-third of the field will advance to a four-game cashers round Sunday at 9 a.m. After 12 games, the top 16 will bowl another three-game round at 11:30 a.m., and after 15 games, the top eight will bowl two more qualifying games at 1:30 p.m. to determine the four bowlers who will advance to the stepladder finals at 3 p.m. At stake is a $10,000 first prize and a PBA Tour title if the winner is a PBA member.

A practice session is scheduled for 4 p.m. Friday and a pro-am where grassroots amateur bowlers can bowl with the pros will be conducted at 6:30 p.m. For tournament pro-am and admission information contact Ten Pin Alley Family Fun Center at (910) 452-5455.

Michael Haugen Jr. Makes Right Ball Choices to Win PBA50 Johnny Petraglia BVL Open

Haugen defeats top finals qualifier Walter Ray Williams Jr. 277-195 in title match for second career PBA50 Tour title

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (May 8, 2018) – Using three different balls to attack the changing lane conditions in the stepladder finals, Michael Haugen Jr. of Phoenix, won the PBA50 Johnny Petraglia BVL Open presented by Brunswick Tuesday for his second career PBA50 Tour title.

Haugen, the 2017 PBA50 Rookie of the Year and winner of the 2017 Suncoast PBA Senior U.S. Open, defeated PBA Hall of Famer and stepladder finals top qualifier Walter Ray Williams Jr. of Oxford, Fla., 277-195, in the title match at Farmingdale Lanes to win his first PBA50 Tour title of the season.

"It's pretty special anytime you can beat the most prolific winner in our sport because he doesn't give them away," said Haugen of his win over Williams. "To beat Walter Ray for the title in a tournament named after Johnny Petraglia, it doesn't get much better than that."

Johnny Petraglia with Champion Micheal Haugen, Jr. and Proprietors John and Joe LaSpina

The 51-year-old Haugen used three different balls in the finals, often using a different ball on each lane in his three matches.

"I used three different balls and just rotated them in and out depending on what I felt I needed to get the reaction I wanted," said Haugen, a five-time PBA Tour winner. "It's all about knowing what's in your (bowling) bag and choosing the right ball for the right situation."

Haugen, the No. 3 qualifier for the finals, started each match he bowled with at least four strikes. He beat No. 4 qualifier Marty Berke of Allentown, Pa., who was making his first finals appearance, 224-170, in the second match and then went on to beat three-time

PBA50 Tour winner and No. 2 qaulifier Bob Learn Jr. of Erie, Pa., in the semifinal match, 244-194, to advance to the championship match against Williams.

"Whenever you can get off to a good start with early strings it's going to put the pressure on your opponent," Haugen added. "Fortunately, I was able to make the right decisions and didn't waste those good starts."

For Williams, who was trying for his 12th PBA50 Tour title, it was his second runner-up finish of the season after finishing second in the PBA50 Lucas/Magazine Classic to open the season. He also finished fifth in the PBA50 National Championship.

In the opening stepladder match, Berke, who turned 60 on Monday, defeated five-time PBA Tour winner Ryan Shafer of Horseheads, N.Y., 237-188, whose fifth-place finish was his first PBA50 Tour finals appearance.

The fourth tournament of the season was named after PBA legend and Vietnam War veteran Johnny Petraglia who is a 14-time PBA Tour and eight-time PBA50 Tour winner. The BVL fund provides recreational and therapeutic programs and services to military veterans.

The PBA50 Tour will take a three-week break before returning with the PBA50 Northern California Classic presented by MOTIV May 27-30 at Harvest Park Bowl in Brentwood, Calif.

PBA World Series of Bowling X Returns to Its Roots in Detroit

FOX Sports to provide unique television coverage from historic Thunderbowl Lanes arena

ALLEN PARK, Mich. (May 9, 2018) – The Professional Bowlers Association's 10th anniversary World Series of Bowling will return to its roots at historic Thunderbowl Lanes in suburban Detroit, and will include a unique television package with the PBA's new broadcast partner, FOX Sports, PBA CEO and Commissioner Tom Clark announced today.

WSOB X, a multi-event tournament series, will be held March 11-21 as part of the 2019 Go Bowling! PBA Tour at the same site that hosted the inaugural World Series in 2009.

"The PBA World Series of Bowling has evolved over the past nine years in becoming the world's premier event in professional bowling," Clark said. "The 10th edition will be the most electrifying yet, with multiple PBA titles being won live in prime time on national TV on consecutive nights. None of this growth would have been possible without the shared vision of Thunderbowl Lanes proprietor Tom Strobl and the great bowling fans of Detroit, so it's with great pleasure that the PBA will return to the place of the WSOB's birth in 2019."

WSOB X will include four championship events that were part of the original event: the Cheetah Championship (won in 2009 by Norm Duke), Chameleon Championship (won by Bill O'Neill), Scorpion Championship (won by Mike DeVaney) and the PBA World Championship (won by Tom Smallwood). The finals of those four events will be televised live by FOX Sports in prime time on consecutive nights in March. A fifth event – a special USA vs. The World team match – will be the final event of WSOB X. Details will be announced soon.

Thunderbowl Lanes' unique arena bay, originally built to showcase team bowling in an era just before the PBA's formation in 1958, will be the site of the FOX Sports telecasts, continuing a WSOB tradition that has included events at premier bowling venues including South Point in Las Vegas and the National Bowling Stadium in Reno, Nev.

Since its formation, the WSOB has become a magnet for both established and rising international bowling stars. Bowlers from 41 different countries have participated over the past nine years.

Because the PBA's new partnership with FOX Sports begins in 2019 and presents an opportunity to televise the entire World Series live, there is no 2018 WSOB. The PBA replaced the World Series on the 2018 schedule with the recently-announced PBA Fall Swing in Tulsa, Okla., in October.

The World Series and the PBA Fall Swing will be open to PBA members only. A complete schedule of WSOB X events will be announced soon.

Women's Championships Weekly Glance

(For May 5 – 11, 2018)

Returning champion takes lead in two events at 2018 USBC Women's Championships

Wendy Mann of South Elgin, Illinois, returned to the United States Bowling Congress Women's Championships in 2018 as a defending champion in Emerald Doubles, and she left Reno this week with the lead in Emerald Singles (638) and Emerald All-Events (1,799).

Last year at the Raising Cane's River Center in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Mann teamed with Betty Jean Davis of Herbert, Illinois, to share the top spot in Emerald Doubles with Teresa Bazley and Holly Davis of Jacksonville, Florida. Each pair combined for a 1,098 total.

After being presented with her championship trophy at the National Bowling Stadium on May 6, Mann quickly got to work, firing a 637 series.

Although she fell short of a repeat performance in doubles May 7, finishing with a 524 series and 1,009 total effort with new partner, Jeanne Hester of Arlington, Texas, Mann rebounded in singles with games of 210, 203 and 225.

Vicky Gahm of Bird Island, Minnesota, previously held the lead in Emerald Singles with 597, while Mary VanderSchaaf of Salmon, Idaho, held the top spot in Emerald All-Events with 1,677.

"This is absolutely crazy," said Mann, who made her 13th USBC Women's Championships appearance. "I had success last year, but I was not expecting to do this well in Reno. It's absolutely surreal. When you've tasted success before, you always want to come back and bowl well and try to get back on top."

Emerald Singles and Emerald All-Events include bowlers with entering averages of 160-174.

Wisconsin friends lead two events at National Bowling Stadium

A group of longtime friends and former college teammates left their names all over the Diamond Division leaderboards this week at the 2018 USBC Women's Championships.

High 5 Gear of Franklin, Wisconsin, moved into the top spot in Diamond Team on May 4 with games of 796, 987 and 717 for a 2,500 total. Ashley Bell led the effort with a 673 series and was followed by Tracy Fakes (639), Katelyn Zwiefelhofer (607) and Melissa Molbeck (581). All four team members bowled collegiately at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater.

Zwiefelhofer and Bell returned May 5 to secure the Diamond Doubles lead with a 1,361 total, which included a 715 performance from Zwiefelhofer and a 646 set from Bell. Bowlieve of Orlando, Florida, previously held the lead in Diamond Team with 2,471, and team members Kendra Gaines of Orlando, Florida, and Taylor Bulthuis of Coral Springs, Florida, were the previous Diamond Doubles leaders with 1,276.

Diamond Team includes bowlers with combined entering averages of 725 and above, while Diamond Doubles includes bowlers with combined averages of 380 and above.

A look ahead

One bowler will celebrate a milestone appearance this week at the USBC Women's Championships.

Eva Lou Rhoads of Englewood, Florida, will become the latest competitor to join the tournament's 50-Year Club on May 14.

Rhoads, 82, started her tournament career at the 1965 event in Portland, Oregon, and her dedication to the sport has earned her spots in the Wilmington Women's Bowling Association and Delaware State USBC Halls of Fame.

The Women's Championships also will take a hiatus this week to welcome the USBC Queens to the National Bowling Stadium from May 16-22.

The final doubles and singles squad before the break will be May 16 at 11 a.m. Eastern, and competition will resume May 23 at 8 p.m. Eastern.

The Queens, a major championship on the Professional Women's Bowling Association Tour, will welcome the top female bowlers from across the globe to compete for the coveted tiara awarded to the winner. The stepladder finals will be broadcast live on May 22 at 8 p.m. Eastern on CBS Sports Network.

Open Championships Weekly Glance

(May 2 - May 8, 2018)

Wisconsin team turns in explosive performance at USBC Open Championships

The members of Wisconsin's Red Carpet Lanes have found continued success at the United States Bowling Congress Open Championships, but they have yet to claim a victory on the championship lanes.

That all may change after their performance May 5 at the Oncenter Convention Center in Syracuse, New York, where they averaged more than 232 as a team during doubles and singles to soar into the Team All-Events lead with a 10,252 total.

The team's latest addition, David Labinski, led Red Carpet Lanes in the Salt City with a 2,129 all-events total, which is fifth in Regular All-Events. Ken Duffield, who is one of 35 players in tournament history with a 300 game and 800 series at the event, moved into sixth place with 2,111.

Dave Beres (2,065), former Junior Team USA member Chris Pierson (1,991) and Chad Maas (1,956) helped complete the team's run to the top of the standings, surpassing previous leader, S & B Pro Shop 1 of Warren, Michigan, by more than 500 pins. S & B Pro Shop 1 previously held the lead in Team All-Events with 9,708, and leads Regular Team with 3,322.

The Red Carpet Lanes teammates have left in the lead in the past, but they only have a handful of top-five finishes to show for their efforts. After so many close calls in the last dozen years, they're hoping they raised the bar high enough this time.

Labinski joined Red Carpet Lanes at the USBC Open Championships for the first time this week in Syracuse, but he's very familiar with the group from various state and local competitions in Wisconsin.

"I was very happy to join this team," said Labinski, who had a 299 game and 787 series in team at the 2013 Open Championships. "We've bowled together in Wisconsin for a while, and it just worked out that we were able to join forces. I was trying to follow their lead, since they've been so close in the past. In Wisconsin, we pride ourselves on coming to this tournament and finding success, so it would mean the world if we could hold on to win."

Past USBC Masters champion rolls perfect game at Oncenter Convention Center

Tom Hess of Urbandale, Iowa, became the 30th bowler in 115 years of the USBC Open Championships history to own multiple 300 games on the tournament lanes, and his most recent success definitely was memorable.

As the animated Hess, the 2011 USBC Masters Champion, approached the final frame of his perfect game May 2 at the Oncenter Convention Center, he showed signs of nothing but pure confidence.

While the 48-year-old right-hander waited to throw the final shot of the fifth 300 at the 2018 Open Championships, a fellow bowler next to Hess looked over and said, "take your time, you've got this."

Hess then put the finishing touches on the second 300 of his 25-year Open Championships career. His first came during singles at the 2006 event in Corpus Christi, Texas.

This year's effort helped him to a 732 series in his team event, and he carried that momentum into doubles and singles, where he added sets of 707 and 725 for a 2,164 all-events total.

Hess still had a shot at the lead in Regular All-Events heading into his final frame, but a stubborn 9 pin ended his run. He settled into second place behind Kurt Pilon of Warren, Michigan, who leads with 2,186.

Two bowlers celebrate 50 years at 2018 USBC Open Championships

Donald Witt of Oak Park, Illinois, and Mike Lastowski of Aberdeen, Maryland, became the latest members of the 50-Year Club at the USBC Open Championships.

The two hit the tournament lanes at the Oncenter Convention Center on May 5 and May 7, respectively, and each received a plaque, chevron and diamond lapel pin to commemorate the achievement.

Witt's Open Championships journey began at the 1969 tournament in Madison, Wisconsin, and he was joined in Syracuse this week for his milestone appearance by his wife, Lupe, sons Mike and Rich, and daughter, Lisa.

This year on the championship lanes, the 75-year-old Witt rolled sets of 535 in team, 503 in doubles and 401 in singles for a 1,439 all-events total. In 50 tournament appearances, he has knocked down 78,511 pins for a career average of 174.

Lastowski boasts more than 100 tournament victories in his career, from the smallest local sweepers to the 1983 USBC Masters, where he faced off against USBC and Professional Bowlers Association Hall of Famers Earl Anthony and Pete Weber on the way to the title.

Lastowski, a 73-year-old right-hander, made his Open Championships debut at 1968 event in Cincinnati, and even a battle with Leukemia and prostate cancer couldn't keep him from his milestone appearance this week in Syracuse.

He ranks his first 1,800 all-events total (1,810 in 1971), his Masters victory and his 50th tournament appearance in a three-way tie for his favorite tournament memory.

In his 50th Open Championships, Lastowski rolled sets of 495 in singles, 462 in doubles and 455 in team for a 1,412 all-events total. In his tournament career, he has knocked down 85,428 pins for a career average of 192.4.

Montana bowler takes Standard Singles lead in Syracuse

When Rob Pierson of Miles City, Montana, stepped up for the final frame of his 2018 USBC Open Championships campaign, the last thing on his mind was taking the lead in Standard Singles.

The 48-year-old right-hander simply was focused on making great shots in hopes of rolling a 700 series at the Oncenter Convention Center.

As he filled 28 pins in the 10th frame May 6 for a 706 series, he was elated, but didn't realize the significance of his final tally.

Pierson started slowly in doubles, but the lanes opened up, and he was able to begin singles with eight consecutive strikes on the way to a 277 effort. He added games of 196 and 233, which included three consecutive strikes starting in the ninth frame, to secure his spot at the top of the standings.

Pierson added sets of 526 in team and 480 in doubles for a 1,712 all-event total, which is just inside the top 25 in Standard All-Events.

Alex Houston of Rochester, Minnesota, who leads Standard All-Events with a 1,855 total, previously held the singles lead with 686.

A look ahead

Bud Olriksen of Las Vegas, who finished third in Classified All-Events in 2017 with his daughter, Ashley, will be the next bowler to celebrate 50 years of USBC Open Championships participation this year in Syracuse.

The 75-year-old will be on the lanes at the Oncenter Convention Center on May 8-9.

Fifteen bowlers are scheduled to join the 50-Year Club this year.

SILVER LAKE ATOM

Splitters completed the sweep by throwing the first six strikes in game four, winning again, 246-192.

"We went undefeated, but on every shot, you do the math in your head and take it one shot at a time," Silver Lake manager Mark Baker said. "My guys really bowled well. Really well. We played the lanes a little differently than everyone else, and our shot wasn't going away. Jesper was Jesper. Dick Allen bowls great in this place. Daugherty, except for the solid 8, struck on about every ball. Putting Chris (Barnes) last relaxed (Dick) and I think that was the big difference.

"This is so much fun," Baker continued. "It's hard to explain to anyone who has never been here what the atmosphere is like. The first shot thrown (in the final round) gave me goosebumps. I don't bowl any more. It wasn't even my team, but that's how electrifying it is here."

While the entire Atom Splitters team bowled well, the decision to award the Mark Roth PBA League Most Valuable Player Award came down to Chris Barnes' three-strike, 10th frame performance in game two of the Elias Cup finals. Barnes also won the inaugural Roth MVP award in 2014, making him the first two-time winner.

"That's pretty cool, but I look at it as more of a team thing," Barnes said. "We all struck a lot. We only had a couple of close games. I struck out to win one. It was a big one to win, but if it hadn't been for a stone 8 (by Daugherty), we wouldn't have been in a position where I needed to do that.

"Our guys were really clicking for the most part. We never had more than one person in between strikes and even then, we were all lined up," he added. "(Philadelphia) just couldn't get all of its guys going at the same time, and that's always the issue here."

At the conclusion of the event, PBA CEO and Commissioner Tom Clark announced the PBA League will return to Bayside Bowl in 2019 as part of the PBA's new television package with FOX Sports. Details will be announced later.

players to win a title in each season since the relaunch of the PWBA Tour in 2015.

The stepladder finals were streamed live on Xtra Frame, the Professional Bowlers Association's online bowling channel.

In the championship match, McEwan began with three consecutive strikes, which echoed a tone she'd set in her previous matches by getting off to strong starts. Coté struggled to find a look early in the match, but she still managed to give herself a chance to win with strikes in the eighth and ninth frames. McEwan countered with a strike in the ninth, and she sealed the victory with a spare to start the 10th frame to collect the $10,000 top prize.

"This means the world to me, especially on this tour," McEwan said. "This year, in particular, the talent is unbelievable. The girls have come back and have gotten so much better from the first year to the second year and all the way through. Every week out here is grueling, the shots are hard and it's really taken everything I have to make it through each round. So, to come out on top, this one's a great feeling."

XTRA FRAME VISITS WILMINGTON, RENO AND MORE

This weekend's Xtra Frame schedule features the PBA Xtra Frame Wilmington, Open, the second of eight Xtra Frame PBA Tour events on the 2018 schedule. Anthony Simonsen of Austin, Texas, will begin defense of his 2017 title Saturday-Sunday, May 19-20, at Ten Pin Alley Family Fun Center in Wilmington, N.C.

Xtra Frame also visits Reno, Nev., for the USBC Queens starting on May 17. Xtra Frame will cover qualifying and preliminary match play elimination rounds of PWBA's first major championship of 2018 from the National Bowling Stadium May 17-21. The stepladder finals will air live on CBS Sports Network on Tuesday, May 22. Diana Zavjalova is the defending champion.

PBA'S "MEMORABLE MOMENTS" 12 THRU 15 COMPLETE THE LIST, 1 THRU 11 REVISITED

The four additional milestones in PBA history listed below complete the list of the PBA"s "60 most memorable moments." The top 10 moments (actually 11, because of a tie for 10th place) were revealed during the PBA's 60th Anniversary celebration in Indianapolis in February, and are re-visited below along with "memorable moments" 12 through 16 which were unveiled on all of the PBA Network's outlets last week. Here are those final moments:

1) Don Johnson's 299 game in the championship game of the 1970 Firestone Tournament of Champions. He fell to floor after leaving a 10 pin on his final shot, rising to a standing ovation at Riviera Lanes.

2) Eddie Elias' meeting with PBA's 33 founding members in Syracuse, N.Y., in 1958.

3) Kelly Kulick becoming the first woman to win a PBA Tour title in the 2010 PBA Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas.

4) Pete McCordic winning a $100,000 bonus with a nerve-wracked 300 game on ABC-TV in 1987.

5) Pete Weber striking in the 10th frame to claim a record fifth U.S. Open title by one pin in 2012, then uttering his famous phrase, "Who Do You Think You Are, I Am!"

6) Earl Anthony surpassing the $1 million career earnings milestone for the first time in winning the 1982 PBA National Championship.

7) Del Ballard Jr., needing two strikes and 7 pins to win the 1991 Fair Lanes Open over Pete Weber, gets the first two but rolls a gutter ball on his last shot to lose.

8) Mark Roth becoming the first player to convert the 7-10 split in a 1980 televised PBA final.

9) Bob Learn Jr. throws 44 out of a possible 48 strikes, including a 300 game, for a record four-game TV total of 1,129 pins to win the PBA Flagship Open in an arena in his hometown of Erie, Pa., in 1996.

10 & 11) A tie between the 2011 TOC from Red Rock in Las Vegas where Mika Koivuniemi defeated Tom Daugherty in the biggest margin of victory ever, 299-100 (lowest game ever bowled on TV) and then goes on to win the $250,000 record first prize. It was the PBA's first live telecast on ABC-TV since 1997. And also tied for 10th, Randy Pedersen needed a strike to defeat Ernie Schlegel to win the 1995 Touring Players Championship, but his seemingly perfect shot left a stone 8 pin, prompting Schlegel to go into a wild celebration.

12) Jack Biondolillo bowled the first nationally televised 300 game in PBA history during the finals of the 1967 Firestone Tournament of Champions, defeating Les Schissler, 300-216, in the second match of the finals and earning a $10,000 perfect game bonus. Biondolillo then lost to Don Johnson in the semifinal match, 228-172, and Jim Stefanich defeated Johnson, 43-36, in a two-frame roll-off for the title after they tied at 227.

13) In 1991, Pete Weber won his third BPAA U.S. Open title at Woodland Bowl in Indianapolis, throwing 10 consecutive strikes after a spare and ending the match with a 10 pin to defeat Mark Thayer, 289- 184. During the trophy presentation, Weber famously hoisted the trophy only to have the ceramic eagle topple to the ground and shatter.

14) In 1962, ABC Sports began its "Pro Bowlers Tour" series coverage with the Empire State Open. Hall of Fame broadcaster Chris Schenkel was in the booth for the first broadcast.

15) In the spring of 2000, the PBA was purchased by former Microsoft executives Chris Peters, Mike Slade and Rob Glaser. PBA headquarters were later relocated to Seattle after spending the first 42 years in Akron, Ohio.

PBA REGIONAL UPDATE: ANGELO WINS SECOND REGIONAL TITLE IN OHIO

Brad Angelo of Lockport, N.Y. defeated Charlie Brown Jr. of Grandville, Mich. by four pins Sunday to win the PBA Taylor Kia Central Open presented by Hammer at Holiday Bowl in Struthers, Ohio.

Angelo, a two-time PBA Tour titlist, finished with a 8-4 match play record and a total of 5,071 pins for 20 games, including match play bonus pins, for his second PBA Regional title and first since 2006. The 48-year-old Angelo earned $2,500 in his 49th PBA Regional over a span of 26 years as a PBA member. Brown posted an 8-4 match play record and knocked down 5,067 pins to earn the $1,350 runner-up prize.

-Brad Miller from Maryland Heights, Mo., after losing his first two matches in the eight-game round robin finals, used games of 279 and 290 to vault to the lead and then held off Austin Boulds of Creal Springs, Ill., to claim his second PBA Regional title at the 11th annual PBA Junction City Bowl Southwest/Midwest Open presented by Dexter on Sunday in Junction City, Kan.

Miller took a 60-pin lead over Boulds into their position round match where the title came down to the final frame. Thanks to an early string of strikes, Boulds had a chance to claim the title, but a 4-9 split in the 10th frame ended his bid. Despite winning the game, 244-225, Boulds was unable to overcome Miller's lead. Miller survived, 4,778-4,767 including match play bonus pins, for the $2,500 first prize.

-Kole Payne of Charlotte, N.C., won his first PBA title and a $2,500 prize Sunday, defeating amateur Brian Dennis of Creedmoor, N.C., 213-190, to win the inaugural PBA Sandhills Aberdeen South Open at Sandhills Bowling Center in Aberdeen, N.C.

Payne, who qualified third for the stepladder finals with a 16-game pinfall of 3,374, mowed down three opponents in his second PBA event as a member. In first stepladder match, he defeated Zack Brown of Holly Springs, N.C., 236-182, and he then eliminated five-time PBA Tour champion Dick Allen of Columbia, S.C., 236-197, in the semifinal match.

-Mother's Day weekend, May 11-13, includes these PBA Regional events: the PBA50 and PBA Baldo Campana Memorial/Ohio Lottery Central Open doubleheader (PBA50 presented by MOTIV, one-day reduced entry fee PBA presented by DV8) at Rebman Recreation in Lorain, Ohio; the Oklahoma City Southwest Open at Planet Bowl in Oklahoma City; the PBA and PBA50 FiX Auto of Puyallup Open doubleheader (PBA50 presented by Sunset Auto Group; PBA presented by The Old Cannery) at Daffodil Bowl in Puyallup, Wash., and the PBA-PWBA Jim's Strike Zone Pro Shop Northwest Open presented by Daffodil Bowl and Vise, also in Puyallup.

-The only event on PBA's Regional calendar for the May 18-20 weekend is the Waxahachie Southwest Challenge at Hilltop Lanes in Waxahachie, Texas.

-The May 24-26 PBA Regional schedule includes the PBA and PBA50 Vanessa Brown Homes West Open (PBA presented by Track, PBA50 presented by Ebonite); the Colony Park Lanes East Challenge presented by Columbia 300 in York, Pa., and the Celeste Walker Midwest/Central Open presented by American Family Insurance at Strike-N-Spare II in Lockport, Ill.

-For complete PBA Regional schedules, rules and entry information, visit pba.com, open the "schedules" tab and click on PBA Regional Tours to find the event(s) in your area…and remember, you can follow "live scoring" for all PBA Regional events on pba.com (easily accessible for Apple device users using the PBA app).

McEwan didn't record an open frame during her three wins. It's a fact she didn't even notice because she was intently focused on keeping her process the same throughout the step-ladder finals. Her mental game has played an important role in her continued development as a player, and it's something she's focused on improving since last season.

"My main keys have been being positive and being patient," McEwan said. "My downward spirals come from when I start to panic and I'm not patient, and it affects my physical game. I saw a lot of that last year. So, this year is about being patient, being positive and trying to keep everything as even-keel as possible."

In McEwan's three previous wins, her mother, Susan Varano, had been present for each victory. With the stepladder finals being held in the host center during the 2018 season, Varano was not in attendance for this championship-round appearance.

This presented a different feeling and vibe for McEwan, who was used to looking up and seeing her mother watching on as a spectator. But, perhaps more than anything, it provided McEwan a different perspective and understanding of just how important her mother is and has been.

"My family is very important to me," McEwan said. "But, with Mother's Day in particular, this is my first win where my mom hasn't been here. It's one of those things you kind of take for granted almost. I don't mean to, but she's just always been here. And, today while bowling, it caught me a couple times and I said, 'wow, she's not here. This is really weird.' I know she was at home glued to the computer and sitting next to my grandmother probably all screaming and crying. It's all good. Happy Mother's Day, mom."

McEwan advanced to the title match after defeating No. 2 seed Rocio Restrepo of Louisville, Ohio, 247-209. Restrepo was looking for her fourth career PWBA Tour title.

In the opening match, McEwan defeated local favorite Missy Parkin of Laguna Hills, California, 220-202.

Competition this week at the PWBA Fountain Valley Open at Fountain Bowl included two eight-game qualifying blocks on Friday to determine the 32 players for Saturday's Round of 32. An additional eight-game block Saturday morning narrowed the field to 12 players, who bowled six additional games to determine the stepladder finalists.

The 2018 PWBA Tour season continues next week with the first major of the season at the United States Bowling Congress Queens at the National Bowling Stadium in Reno, Nevada.

Qualifying and match-play rounds of PWBA Tour events are broadcast on Xtra Frame, which also will be the livestream home for the step-ladder finals of seven standard events.

Go to PWBA.com for more information about the PWBA Tour.
