Lee Lorts/Tony Arabia win SASBA M/M Doubles in Duncanville

Tony Arabia and Lee Lorts

DUNCANVILLE, Texas – Lee Lorts and Tony Arabia were in third place after 8 games of qualifying on Saturday, July 14 at the Member/Member Doubles at Red Bird Lanes in Duncanville.

They won 7 of their 10 Baker matches including a 209-201 win over Jim Stephens and Johnny Atkinson in the final match for the title and $2,100 on Sunday.

It was the first SASBA title for both Lee and Tony and was Tony's first tournament as a SASBA member!

Stephens/Atkinson were second and cashed for $1,700, Derek Williams/Pete Seibel finished third and claimed $1,350, Billy Cathey/Jim Carter fourth for $1,150 and Rick Minier/Bubba Haney rounded out the top 5 and took home $1,050.

No 300 games this week. Jon Delaney and Jim Stephens both picked up the 7-10.

A Baker 289 game in the finals by Lorts/Arabia was high game of the tourney.

The lane conditions were tough and it was hot in the building on Saturday due to air conditioning issues at the high end that were fixed right before "B" squad ended. Kudos to all for finishing in a tough environment.

Thanks to Billy Cathey and crew for being great hosts.

Our next tournament is the nonchamp Singles in Ennis.

The following week is the Member/Guest at Armadilla I.

This is separate qualifying for the members and guests.

Then paired up 1 with 1 and so on.

Pins do not carry over. $3000 guaranteed first by Mark Busscher and Galco Hearing Aids. Cash 1:3. August 25-26 we are at Cowtown Bowling Palace for the 60/50/50 Trio.

Michael Haugen Jr. Wins PBA50 River City Extreme Open for Second Title of the Season

MONTICELLO, Minn. (July 20, 2018) – Michael Haugen Jr. defeated Bob Learn Jr., 247-246, in the title match to win the PBA50 River City Extreme Open presented by Ebonite Friday for his second title of the season and third of his career.

Haugen, the 2017 PBA50 Rookie of the Year, became the first two-time winner this season and further tightened his grip on the PBA50 Player of the Year points lead with four tournaments remaining in the season.

In the title match, Haugen, who finished first, was able to shut Learn out when he struck on the first ball in the 10th frame and then made the 6-10 spare.

"It was a good thing I got eight and not six or seven on the second ball otherwise I might not be standing here," said Haugen of his second shot in the 10th frame. "I lost focus for a moment and the result of that shot could have been a lot worse."

Michael Haugen, Jr.

It was a long road for the 51-year-old Haugen to reach the No. 1 qualifying position for the stepladder finals coming all the way from 20th after the first round of qualifying on

Beauties vs. Beasts Special Event to Kick Off SOBC Mixed Doubles Event

HOUSTON, TX - A new "Beauties vs. Beasts" five-game Baker format team match will kick off the annual PBA-PWBA Striking Against Breast Cancer Mixed Doubles Tournament presented by Storm on Thursday, July 26, at 4 p.m. CDT at Copperfield Bowl in Houston, Texas. The special event will be covered live by PBA Xtra Frame on FloBowling.

Tournament founder Donna Conners, who is always looking to add bigger-and-better features to the event, will pit last year's top male qualifiers against last year's leading female qualifiers in a Baker format team competition. At stake will be $5,000 in bonus prize money for the winning team, with $1,000 to the losing team.

Bowling on the female side will be Germany's Birgit Popplar (who won the 2017 mixed doubles title with partner Jason Sterner); Stefanie Johnson of McKinney, Texas; Holly Harris of Wichita, Kan.; Josie Earnest-Barnes of Nashville, Tenn., and Natalie Cortese of Hoffman Estates, Ill. (Cortese replaces Sweden's Jenny Wegner, who is not entered this year). The male side will feature Kyle Troup of Taylorsville, N.C.; Tommy Jones of Simpsonville, S.C.; Chris Barnes of Double Oak, Texas; Brad Miller of Raytown, Mo., and Clint Land of Houston.

The 19th annual mixed doubles tournament, the largest event of its kind in professional bowling, will feature a world-class field of 160 teams including players from around the world. It will be covered from start to finish by PBA Xtra Frame on FloBowling, beginning with the first of four eight-game qualifying squads at 8 a.m. CDT on Friday, July 27.

LOS ANGELES (July 18, 2018) – Rhino Page of Orlando, Fla., who ended a six-year singles title draught with two victories including the 2017 U.S. Open, has been selected winner of the 2018 Best Bowler ESPY award in fan voting conducted by ESPN.

"I think it's pretty simple to sum up what it means just to be nominated for an ESPY," Page said. "Five years ago I went through wrist surgery not knowing if I was ever going to be able to throw a ball again, let alone get back to playing at the highest level. To be here at the ESPYs after the long journey back is something I am incredibly honored and humbled by.

"I'm so thankful for God's grace through it all," he continued. "I can't thank my friends, my family, my sponsors and my fans enough. They have been there for me every step of the way. They supported me in the times I needed them the most. To represent the sport

As the USBC national tournaments cycle each year, there are usually two story lines with each champion as he, she, or they experience the route to victory. There's the tale of what happens on the lanes, or the box score, if you will. That's what you read about in the press release after the score is rolled.

The second story fills in the outline of how things came together, with the twists and turns the individuals or team members successfully navigated to victory. This is the side that you would see in a feature film, documentary, or social media post.

What happened to Tracy Anderson of The Bowlers ER Tres Standard Division team champions at this year's Open Championships may not get a feature film, but it may qualify for something you'd see on the Hallmark Channel. But I'm getting ahead of myself here.

Anderson had no plans to bowl this year's Open Championships. As her boyfriend Dan Luncsfords' late May, team time approached, one of the members had to drop out two weeks prior to the trip, then Even though she hadn't bowled much after fall leagues ended, and not to the level she wanted in recent years, Dan asked Tracy if she was up to it. She said yes. Anderson practiced every day for a week before the drive from Chicagoland to Syracuse.

Unknown to the group at the time, the late change in the lineup would change the team's classification from Regular to Standard. That would come back into play at a very surprising point.

Two of the team members, Jason Intravia and Jannard Remo, were each bowling their first USBC's. As many veteran participants will tell you, that can be as intimidating as any factor. Not only would they be seeing an unfamiliar set of oil patterns, but bowling in a completely different setting for the first time.

"In warmups, we had Jason (who bowled the highest series on the team, 639) and Jannard (511 series) roll plastic up fourth arrow, while Bill Shaw (536 series), Dan, and I rolled plastic balls a little left of second arrow, to help break the lanes down the way we wanted. We were surprised how well that worked toward game three," Anderson told me last week.

Although this was her tenth OC, Anderson was unusually content bowling just the team event, contributing a 544 set, while Luncsford added 613. The Bowlers ER Tres team game totals were 921, 975, and 947 for 2,843.

"I was most proud of the effort of Jason and Jannard. When I first met them, they were practicing rolling the ball straighter on a house shot, anticipating bowling at nationals. Once we started bowling team event, those two really kept covering spares like a couple of veterans. They really left their hearts out there," Anderson added.

They bowled the 7:00 pm team squad, followed by doubles and singles at 2:30 pm the next day. On the planned leisurely trip back home, Dan started doing some math in his head, double checking the team average. Based on several combinations, he had the team average somewhere between 1,028 and 1,031, putting them in the Standard Division, and not the Regular Division, the original designation before Tracy agreed to bowl. That prompted a phone call to USBC OC Tournament Director Duane Hagen.

Hagen agreed, apologizing for the oversight that should have been caught at tournament check- in with the addition of Anderson. Instead of being in the 200 to 250th place finish in the Regular Division standings, they were now leading the Standard Division by 108 pins.

"As Dan explained the math in his call (with Hagen), he looked at me and later said he saw this strange look on my face. That must have been the look when I realized we were in the lead," the two-time Women's Championships winner said.

Anderson already had proven strategy to handle this situation, as well.

"Having been through this before, I knew the five weeks until the end of the tournament would feel longer, so I let others watch the scores. That worked well, although this was another division I knew friends of mine had won (as Vince Biondo did in 2003 Team All-Events, among them), but never considered it was my turn," Anderson said with a still-surprised tone in her voice.

With an impressive resume', now containing three national USBC titles, two Illinois High School Association (IHSA) titles, and a Chicagoland USBC Hall of Fame induction, Anderson isn't thinking about another hall she is now qualified to join, the national USBC Hall of Fame.

"There's so much going on with work, and a son thinking about going to college, what happened in Syracuse still hasn't sunk in yet," a still-surprised Anderson said.

Now, here is where the Hallmark Channel movie might begin. Her current boyfriend Dan was once her husband. After some time apart and very serious soul searching, they got back together awhile back. Anderson considers this a very unique piece of the new and different type of bond only they can share. In fact, the drive back to Chicagoland, planned before Hagen phone call, took them through Ontario and Michigan, was just for them to decompress and enjoy each other's company again.

"We now have a deeper tie together. It's hard to put into words what this means, but it's a much different feeling and stronger bond. We feel crazy blessed and it is definitely not the end of our story, bowling and otherwise. More wonderful things are going to happen, I can just feel it."

Donna Conners' once-little fundraiser that has turned into the premier mixed doubles tournament on the planet, here's a little reminder of whom has bowled and will be bowling at Copperfield Bowl in Houston later this week. For this week's JPA Lost Classic, we go back just ten years ago, to the 2008 USBC Women's Intercollegiate Team Championship match between the Pikeville University Lady Bears and Wichita State University Lady Shockers.

Pikeville featured National Collegiate Bowling Coaches Association (NCBCA) Most Valuable Player Kayla Bandy, NCBCA Rookie of the Year and tourney MVP Ashly Galante. Wichita State had Rocio Restrepo, Sandra Gongora, and Elysia Current

Teams Selected for 2018 World Youth Championships

ARLINGTON, Texas - With another successful Junior Team USA training camp now concluded, the eight bowlers who will represent the United States at the 2018 World Bowling Youth Championships have been selected by the Team USA coaching staff.

The World Youth Championships will take place in Detroit from July 25-Aug. 3.

Five-time Junior Team USA member Wesley Low of Palmdale, California, a 21-year-old two-hander who attacks the lane from the left side, will lead the young contingent into Thunderbowl Lanes, where he hopes to help the Junior Team USA boys to a fourth consecutive team gold medal.

Low was part of the victories in Hong Kong in 2014 and Lincoln, Nebraska, in 2016.

This year's event will mark his third trip to the World Youth Championships, where he has earned five gold medals, three silver medals and a pair of bronze medals, and he's ready to take on more of a vocal leadership role in 2018.

Along with the team success, Low is the defending champion in doubles and singles.

He will be joined in Detroit by a trio of Junior Team USA veterans - Cortez Schenck of Phoenix, Jeffery Mann of West Lafayette, Indiana, and Bryan Hahlen of Greenwood, South Carolina - all of whom will be competing at the World Youth Championships for the first time.

"I'm now the oldest one in the group, and the one with the most experience, so I'll do my best to share what I've learned and help keep everyone as relaxed as possible," said Low, a student-athlete at Wichita State University. "All of us had a great time at camp, and no matter who was selected for the World Youth Championships, we knew we'd have a great group that gets along very well. Those of us going see each other at collegiate events, we talk a lot and we all have a common goal, which is to win as many medals as possible, so we're expecting to bowl well and have a great time together."

The girls' team will consist of four World Youth Championships rookies, three of whom are members of Junior Team USA for the first time.

The veteran of the quartet is five-time Junior Team USA member Breanna Clemmer of Clover, South Carolina.

The 20-year-old right-hander is the 2017 and 2018 National Tenpin Coaches Association Division II/III Player of the Year and helped the McKendree women to a pair of national titles in 2017 - the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Bowling Championship and Intercollegiate Team Championships.

Clemmer will be joined

WORLD YOUTH CHAMP

in Detroit by her McKendree teammate Taylor Bailey of Joliet, Illinois, Webber International's Caitlyn Johnson of Rockwell, North Carolina, and 16-year-old Mabel Cummins of Elburn, Illinois.

The last time the Junior Team USA girls won the coveted team gold medal at the World Youth Championships was in Bangkok in 2012. They claimed bronze in 2014 and silver in 2016 in a loss to Korea.

The World Youth Championships is held every two years.

"I knew going into camp that it was a world championships year, and I really wanted to be a part of it," Clemmer said. "I've changed a lot about my game and outlook, and for Bryan (O'Keefe) and the coaches to want me there means a lot. One thing we always say and believe is 'allow yourself to be great,' and I'm really looking forward to this opportunity."

Clemmer, who has collected eight total medals in two trips to the Pan American Bowling Confederation Youth Championships, and another seven gold medals at the Lee Evans Tournament of the Americas, is hoping she can use her experience and the things she felt during those events to help keep her teammates comfortable and focused in Detroit.

It also means a lot for the Junior Team USA members to be in their home country, which will allow friends, family and teammates to support them in person.

TV Finalists Set at 2018 USA Bowling National Championships

DALLAS - The four teams for the televised finals of the 2018 USA Bowling National Championships presented by Sixlets are set, and five of the bowlers among the remaining 18 competitors are looking for a second consecutive title.

The event includes two divisions - 12-and-under and 15-and-under - each with its own TV show, and there is the potential for repeat champions in both divisions.

The shows will be taped Saturday for delayed broadcast on CBS Sports Network. This year's U12 show from the International Training and Research Center in Arlington, Texas, will air Aug. 14 at 8 p.m. Eastern, and the U15 finals will run Aug. 21 at 7 p.m. Eastern.

The U12 teams advancing to the title match are Four the Love of Boba from the Pacific Southwest and Vegas Incredibowls from the Southwest. The U15 finale will feature defending champion 3 Rights Make A Left from the Midwest against THE Ohio Storm, representing the Lower Great Lakes.

Qualifying at the 2018 USA Bowling National Championships took place Wednesday at AMF Garland Lanes, and the double-elimination portion of the event was contested Thursday at nearby USA Bowl. Bracket matches were contested in a best-of-three Baker format.

Four the Love of Boba includes two members of the Cloverleaf Strikers team that won the U12 title in the Cleveland area in 2017, and the group earned the top seed for Thursday's match-play competition. A second-round loss quickly sent the quartet to the elimination bracket, where they rallied with five consecutive victories on the way to a 6-1 record.

Two members of last year's winning team aged out of the U12 category, so reigning champions Nihal Mareedu and Diego Jara will be joined under the bright lights by Saphyre Nofuente and Ethan Ranario. Head coach Chris Nofuente also is new to the team in 2018.

Throughout qualifying and match play, Nofuente experimented with different lineups to see what worked best, and he found the right combination late in the day Thursday at USA Bowl.

"It's great to represent our area and a great organization like the NorCal All-Stars, and even though they're all from different cities, they've been able to form friendships and were very comfortable together on the lanes," Chris Nofuente said. "Our energy was a little low early today, but we brought it back up, got the crowd into it and really fed off that."

The Southwest squad is led by former Junior Team USA member, collegiate national champion and Professional Bowlers Association Tour winner Jake Peters, with help from United States Bowling Congress Open Championships titlist Adam Ishman.

The group was strong in match play, earning three wins to start the day, before meeting a talented Southeast team in the bracket final.

The undefeated Vegas Incredibowls would've needed to be beaten twice to be eliminated by the Southeast Pin Crushers, but after falling 2-0, Peters and Ishman rallied their team for a 2-0 victory of their own and a spot on CBS Sports Network.

"We work with these bowlers back in Las Vegas, and to see them learn and grow is amazing," Peters said. "This program is so much fun, and the chance to be on television bowling for a national championship at 12 years old really was the drive for us from the start. Being able to share from the experiences, opportunities and wins we've had means a lot. My advice is just to have fun. The environment is so different, and it goes fast, so just enjoy it, because you don't know if you'll get the chance again."

The Vegas Incredibowls roster includes Christopher Faro, Sebastian Huffman, Tyler Hedges and Daryus Alo.

Three members of 3 Rights Make A Left are getting another chance to win a national title on TV, and Brandon Bonta, Spencer Robarge and Silas Limes will put their U15 title on the line with help from newcomer Piper Reams.

The path back to TV included a 4-0 record at USA Bowl and was highlighted by great teamwork, camaraderie, communication and top-notch coaching from Kelly Bonta and PBA Hall of Famer Chris Barnes.

"All along, I just wanted to stay positive and confident and remember that it's a team effort," Piper Reams said. "They're all awesome bowlers, and just to be asked to join the team was awesome. We get along well, we talk and we laugh, so it's really comfortable."

The defending champions will meet a motivated Lower Great Lakes team that lost its first match Thursday and then rattled off six consecutive victories, including back-to-back wins against the undefeated The Thunder from the Coastal South, to lock up a spot in the final.

THE Ohio Storm squad returns all five players from a successful 2017 USA Bowling run, plus one additional player for good measure. The roster includes Ryan Hanzak, Kyle Hanzak, Angelo Biondo, Nolan Blessing, Jillian Martin and Kaylee Hitt.

"After losing the first match, in which we got off to a good start, we didn't want to forget that we do have a talented and capable team, so we gave it our best and won the next match," Lower Great Lakes head coach Mark Blessing said. "Then, we won another. And another. We started having fun and were very relaxed out there. By the time we got to the last match, everyone was feeling good, we were talking and we just went with the momentum. Just making the show is a dream come true, and we're going to enjoy every minute of it."

The event's finals will take place Saturday at the ITRC, the home of Team USA and Junior Team USA, and will

"I'm excited to get there and ecstatic that we're going to be bowling on our home turf," Clemmer said. "We'll have a lot more friends and family there, and all their support really could be the difference in giving us the extra push we might need in a big moment or for a gold medal."

The Team USA coaching staff also selected eight bowlers to represent the United States at the Lee Evans Bowling Tournament of the Americas. That event will be held at Strikers Family Sportscenter in Sunrise, Florida, from Aug. 5-11.

The Junior Team USA members chosen to compete at the Tournament of the Americas are Kaitlyn Eder of Lithia, Florida, Allie Leiendecker of Wooster, Ohio, Kristopher Yadao of Pearl City, Hawaii, and Adam Zimmerman of Deer Park, New York. The four will compete in the Junior A division, which is for competitors under the age of 20.

Four members of the U15 Developmental Team have been selected to represent the United States in the Junior B division, for competitors under the age of 16.

The group includes Jennifer Loredo of Fresno, California, Amanda Naujokas of Ronkonkoma, New York, Spencer Robarge of Springfield, Missouri, and Solomon Salama of Beverly Hills, California.

The event is being held for the 56th time and also features categories for adults, seniors and super seniors.

In 2017, the youth representatives from the United States earned 16 of a possible 18 gold medals.

"Every year, this group of bowlers gets stronger and stronger, and we're incredibly excited to get out on the lanes this summer and bowl against the best from around the world," said O'Keefe, the Junior Team USA head coach. "It was tough to choose just a few from such a talented group. Now, we're confident, ready to compete and looking forward to bringing home some medals."

Wednesday. Haugen made his dramatic climb with the help of a 5-0-1 match play round earlier in the day Friday.

"The lanes were tough for me at the start of the tournament but that just meant I had to do what I do best and that is adjust," said Haugen, who won the Johnny Petraglia BVL Open in May for his first win of the season. "As the tournament went on I started getting more comfortable to the point where I was able to use my ball speed to make the adjustments I needed.

"I'm just keeping it simple and continuing to do what I have been doing all season," Haugen continued. "If I keep executing and making good decisions I'll keep getting good results."

In the opening stepladder match No. 4 qualifier Brian Kretzer beat No. 5 qualifier PBA Hall of Famer and four-time PBA50 Tour winner Norm Duke, 290-228, to advance to the second match. Kretzer left a 10 pin in the first frame, made the spare, and then strung the next 11 strikes.

In the second match Kretzer, who was trying for his first PBA50 Tour title, beat No. 3 qualifier four-time PBA50 Tour winner Lennie Boresch Jr., 202-199, to advance to the semifinal match against Learn. Kretzer, the 2018 Suncoast PBA Senior U.S. Open runner-up, threw three strikes in the 10th to beat Boresch after Boresch chopped the 6-10 spare.

Learn, who qualified second for the finals, then beat Kretzer, 238-225, in the semifinal to advance to the title match against Haugen. Learn was trying for his fourth PBA50 Tour title and first since 2015.

The next stop for the PBA50 Tour will be the PBA50 South Shore Open presented by Hammer July 23-26 at Olympia Lanes in Hammond, Ind.

Fans can catch all the action on PBA's online bowling channel PBA Xtra Frame on FloBowling. For subscription and schedule information visit www.flobowling.com.

be televised on CBS Sports Network for the third consecutive year. The title matches will have a best-of-five Baker format to crown this year's national champions.

All rounds of qualifying and match play leading up to the televised finals were broadcast on BowlTV.

The 30 teams competing in the Dallas area this week all earned their spots at the national event by winning one of the regional tournaments held across the country throughout the end of 2017 and beginning of 2018.

The USA Bowling program was designed as a team-based youth program to introduce competitors to the sport, and it follows the same structure as other youth sports. It places children on a team, provides a coach for each team and conducts regular practices, along with weekly competitions.

The program was introduced at the regional level in 2013 and grew to include the first USA Bowling National Championships in Indianapolis in 2016.

In addition to the USA Bowling National Championships, the Junior Gold Championships presented by the Brands of Ebonite International and the Bowling.com Youth Open Championships also are taking place in the Dallas area.
