

United States, Australia Win Titles at 2018 QubicaAMF World Cup

Shannon O'Keefe and Sam Cooley

By: Matt Cannizzaro

LAS VEGAS - Since making Team USA for the first time more than a decade ago, Shannon O'Keefe has had her eye on the coveted QubicaAMF Bowling World Cup.

She watched her teammates hoist the prestigious trophy three consecutive times from 2004-2006 and then anxiously waited a dozen years for her opportunity to join them in the tournament record book.

The 39-year-old right-hander earned the chance to represent the United States this week at the 2018 QubicaAMF World Cup, and she did not waste the opportunity.

O'Keefe's World Cup dream became a reality Saturday at the Sam's Town Bowling Center as she claimed the 2018 World Cup title with a dramatic 238-236 victory over Malaysia's Sin Li Jane. It marked the first time a woman was able to win the World Cup in her home country.

The win was emotional and bittersweet for O'Keefe, who then looked on as Team USA's Kyle Troup, the top seed on the men's side by more than 350 pins, lost a lopsided championship match against Australia's Sam Cooley, 244-163.

"I have wanted to bowl this tournament for 14 years, and to be able to bowl in it, let alone win, is a dream come true," said O'Keefe, who has been a Team USA member since 2005.

Though Sin had a commanding lead in the women's final, tossing six strikes in her first seven frames, O'Keefe rallied with four consecutive strikes, starting in the seventh frame. A 7 pin on her second offering in the final frame slowed O'Keefe's momentum, but it forced Sin to get any spare and a strike to win by a single pin.

Sin left, and converted, the 6-10 combination to start her 10th frame, but her final shot drifted high, leaving behind the 4-6-10 split, which secured the victory for O'Keefe and gave Malaysia its second consecutive runner-up finish at the event.

O'Keefe experienced some close calls on the way to the World Cup title, which included qualifying seventh for the eight-player round-robin match-play portion of the event and fourth for the four-player semifinal round, thanks to closing games of 227 and 247.

The reigning PWBA Player of the Year earned her meeting with Sin, a fellow PWBA champion, by defeating top-seeded Nadia Nuramalina of Indonesia, 247-202. Sin topped 2018 PWBA Tour Championship winner Maria Jose Rodriguez of Colombia, 207-166.

Troup's path to the title tilt featured few obstacles. He was able to use the same two balls for all 40 games leading up to the semifinals, he rolled a perfect game during qualifying - the 75th in tournament history - and he topped the leaderboard from start to finish.

In his two championship-round matches Saturday afternoon, Troup found the need to use a ball he hadn't thrown all week, which worked out well in a 264-216 semifinal win over nine-time World Cup participant Andres Gomez of Colombia, but he never was able to get anything going in PLANO, TX - Team Shuffler (John Shuffler, Phil Kepner, Sandi Charles, Anthony LaverySpahr) were in 7th place after qualifying on Saturday, November 3 at the SASBA Mixed Foursome at Plano Super Bowl.

Moving up to second place for the final position round game on Sunday, they lost 13 points to qualifying leaders

Team McGregor, but held on to stay in the stair-step final to nab the last spot qualifying 5th.

In the first Baker match, Team Shuffler faced Team Pender (Paul Pender, Darry Weigle, Kiyoko McDonald, Jimmy McMartin) and defeated them 244-191.

The next match was against Team Cummings (Lyn Cum-

Four Elected to 2019 USBC Hall of Fame Class

By: Terry Bigham

ARLINGTON, Texas - Four candidates recently were elected to the United States Bowling Congress Hall of Fame by the USBC Hall of Fame Committee, and the four new members will be part of the 2019 class that will be inducted on May 1, 2019, in Las Vegas.

Jim St. John was selected in the Veterans category, Kegel founder John Davis and longtime bowling journalist Bob Johnson were elected in the Meritorious Service category and Larry Lichstein was elected in the Pioneer category.

In addition to electing four members for the 2019 class, the USBC Hall of Fame Committee slated 10 bowlers for the Superior Performance national ballot, which will be voted on by a national panel of USBC Hall of Fame members, USBC Board members and veteran bowling writers.

On the men's national ballot are: Patrick Allen of Garfield, New Jersey; Chris Barnes

Excellence requires dedication, and sometimes some creative time management. This was personified last Sunday by reigning PWBA Player of the Year Shannon O'Keefe. After coaching her McKendree University Bearcats to victory in the annual Sam Houston State Kat Klash at Emerald Bowl in Houston, O'Keefe had extra time before her flight to Las Vegas for the QubicaAMF World Cup, so what do you think she did with her extra time and a bowling center with a bowled-on NCAA tournament oil pattern? She practiced, of course. As seen on a video on her Facebook fan page, she is seen tossing a strike at Emerald before leaving.

The last minute practice certainly paid off as she ended up qualifying fourth for the semifinals. The rest of the story can be found by reading the USBC press release elsewhere here in TBN. Her players at McKendree University, potential recruits, The Shafanie Show fans, and those who have watched her for years take great joy as she reaches another level of excellence. That will make a USBC

The next chapter of the evolution for the USBC Open Championships may take a different path than we've been seeing.

In an email survey sent out last week to past OC bowlers, last week to past OC bowlers, they were asked their preference on future OC sites, you have three choices, the OC should be held in a traditional bowling center, continue to hold the OC exclusively in arena venues, or if the venue is not important to you. I will go into further detail on this item next week.

Finally this week, I want to give a shout and get well wishes to friend-of-the-column, former lead PBA television voice Dave LaMont, who usually in November is splitting his time between calling both college football and college basketball. This year, LaMont has been sidelined the last few weeks with a detached retina.

First in a text message to me, then in pictures on social media, the ESPN announcer said he'll be away another couple of weeks before heading back into the broadcast booth, reminding us doctors don't want him even lifting anything.

He asked me to thank everyone who has sent well wishes and appreciates the gratitude of his fans and viewers. Get well and heal safely, Dave!

photographers walking on lanes and other places without asking, can contribute to stories getting a little distorted

However, there are times when a reporter sticks to the basics and does a really nice job. Such is the case with a story on the nationally-ranked program at St. Ambrose University in Davenport, Iowa.

As first shown last week on the local NBC affiliate, KWQC-TV, sports reporter Skubie Mageza spoke with a women's team member, Michaela Kelly, men's team member Seth Sik-kema, then Head Coach Eric Fittig. The St. Ambrose Bees men's team topped its poll, while the women were second on collegebowling.com's Week 7 poll of the 2018-19 season.

The other two television stations in the market also do a very good job keeping an eye on the many top college teams in a variety of sports as they progress through their respective seasons. A huge plus is that they are on KWQC's radar, increasing not only the potential of follow up stories later in the season, but also the chance that the other two network affiliates may also do something as the squad's advance toward ITC Sectional and National Championships.

Here's a link to the KWQC story seen in the sports segment of five newscasts through the following day. (<https://www.kwqc.com/content/sports/St-Ambrose-Bowling-Makes-History-In-Rankings-499749771.html>)

Dave Ryan's call was good, Marshall Holman was his usual Steady Eddie self, yet something seemed to be amiss. Didn't take long for me to see what it was. Sure, there were plenty of replays from several cameras and angles, I started to imagine where graphics would be inserted showing all the things that used to be dismissed because it looked to videogame-ish.

As I explained, it's been around for a while. Not only are we used to that look, we lian entered the final stage as the No. 2 seed, finishing the 40 games 366 pins behind Troup.

Had Troup been able to finish the job, it would've been the second time in 54 years of World Cup history a country swept both titles, a feat Sweden accomplished in 1986.

Additionally, it would've been the third back-to-back victories for the Team USA men (1966-1967 and 2007-2008) and second time for a Team USA man to win the event in the United States. That first was accomplished by Robert Worrall in 1981. Jakob Butturff claimed the cup for Team USA in Hermosillo, Mexico, in 2017.

A first-time Team USA member, this week marked Troup's debut in a Team USA jersey. From here, he'll use this experience in helping the team find success at the upcoming 2018 World Bowling Men's Championships in Hong Kong.

"I couldn't have asked for too much better of a first event with Team USA, other than to win, of course," Troup said. "It was an incredible experience, from bowling well and leading the tournament to meeting new fans and players from other countries. Sam bowled a great final game and deserves to be the champion, but I'll also take a lot away from this week. I learned a lot while working with Rod (Ross), and I'm excited to go to the World Championships. Even though this one ended how it did and got away from me, I think we'll get it back in Hong Kong."

With the win, Cooley became the second man from Australia to claim the World Cup, joining Jason Belmonte, who won in Johannesburg, South Africa, in 2011. Australia has won the women's title six times, most recently in 2007 to end Team USA's quest for four consecutive titles.

This year's World Cup was the second of Cooley's career, an opportunity he earned by winning the Australian Open early in 2018. His World Cup debut came in Shanghai in 2016, where a disappointing finish left him in seventh place.

Though the United States did not win both titles Sat-

On the women's national ballot are: Marianne DiRupo of Succasunna, New Jersey; Kelly Kulick of Union, New Jersey; Sandra Jo Shiery of Coldwater, Michigan; and Tammy Turner of West Palm Beach, Florida.

St. John, who served in the Navy for nine years before turning to bowling full time, won six titles on the Professional Bowlers Association Tour from 1963-1969 and captured a USBC Open Championships Classic Team title in 1964. He died on Jan. 14, 1987, at age 56.

His most dominating performance came at the 1963 World Invitational, one of the most prestigious tournaments in bowling, that took place in Chicago. St. John set 12 tournament records, tied two others, and posted the only 300 game over the course of the 11-day tournament. He successfully defended his title at the 1964 event.

St. John was a two-time Bowlers Journal and American Bowling Congress All-American first-team member and was elected to the PBA Hall of Fame in the Veterans category in 1989.

Davis, who passed away on Jan. 25, 2013, at age 64, started Kegel in 1981 on the heels of developing The Key™ Lane Cleaning Tool, which provided bowling centers a better and more economical way to clean lanes. With a goal of making "two lanes play the same," he became a leading innovator and expert in the field of lane maintenance throughout a career that had a major impact in the sport.

In addition to the lane machines, conditioners, cleaners and other items he developed, he opened the Kegel Training Center in 1997, moving it to its current location in Lake Wales, Florida, in 2003, to give bowlers and coaches the latest technological advances to take their knowledge to the next level. His last invention was the Kegel LaneMapper, which measures lane topography.

Johnson, 60, of Las Vegas, has been at the forefront of telling bowling's stories for nearly five decades. He began writing about the sport for Pacific Bowler at the age of 15 and has gone on to serve as editor of four national bowling magazines, including Bowlers Journal International and Bowling Center Management. He has been honored with 75 national writing awards for his work covering the sport and industry.

He served as an administrator for World Bowling Writers for eight years, while also serving on several committees, and has served on the USBC Hall of Fame committee since its formation.

In 2009, Johnson was selected as the Bowling Writers Association of America (now International Bowling Media Association) Luby Hall of Fame Award winner, and, in October 2019, he was elected to the PBA Hall of Fame.

Larry Lichstein, 69, of Fort Myers, Florida, who was elected to the PBA Hall of Fame in 1996 in the Meritorious Service Category, made his mark as the long-time director of player services for the PBA.

He started his PBA career as a bowler in 1969, becoming the youngest PBA Rookie of the Year at the time of his selection. He would win his lone PBA title at the San Jose Open in 1970. He also owns two Open Championships titles, winning Classic All-Events in 1969 and Classic Team in 1970, and has six other top-five finishes at the tournament.

In May 1974, Lichstein changed career paths, and for more than 22 years, would serve as the PBA Director

US, AUSTRALIA

urday at Sam's Town, Team USA's overall performance was enough to win another coveted award given to the country with the best combined finish.

"One of our goals was the country award, so earning that is incredibly special, too," Team USA head coach Rod Ross said. "It was great to see Shannon really turn it on today and come through in the end, but definitely disappointing for Kyle to bowl so well all week and come up short. Sam bowled that title match really well and earned it. Overall, it was a great week. It's tough with so many games and moves and countries. It's quite a grind. I'm pleased with how the team did, and we'll take this as a positive, especially as we head to Hong Kong for the World Championships."
