

Jordan Malott, Jack Corrales and Isabella Colbert Win Barnes Thanksgiving Classic

Barnes Thanksgiving Classic finalists and volunteers Peggy Gerdes, Joyce Claus and Susan Lee and California competed for over $18,000 in SMART money. Since the tournament's first year, the Barnes Thanksgiving Youth Classic has given out an estimated $233,000 in scholarships. The event was bowled on the New PBA Chameleon sport pattern. There were 3 divisions: 185 & over Scratch, 184 & under handicap, and ages 13 and under handicap. The tournament high game of 264 was bowled by both Conner Mixson and Nicole Gattenby in the qualifying rounds.

NCTUSBC Inducts Five into Hall of Fame

By: Tony Franklin, Publisher

The 2nd Annual NCTUSBC Hall of Fame and Awards Banquet held on October 20th was a huge success with two youth bowlers being recognized and five new members being inducted into the Hall of Fame.

This year, the event was held in Euless at the Texas Star Golf Course, complete with a live acoustic band, food, drinks and was well attended by over 130 people. The NCTUSBC board outdid themselves again for sure.

The high performance awards this year went to Brian Grange with the high average in the association of 238 for 105 games. For the ladies it was Brenda Padilla for the second consecutive year, and an average of 222 for 116 games.

The high series for the year was 863, shot at Cowtown Bowling Palace by Paul Fleming.

The Lewis Ray Youth Bowler of the Year awards went to Gannon Takayesu and Kaitlyn George.

Takayesu is 16 and bowls mainly at AMF Euless and Brunswick Zone Watauga. He finished 2nd in the Grand Prix Finals for the second year in a row, and has a high game of 298. His dream is to make it onto Junior Team USA.

George is a 17-yr-old senior at Kennedale High School who received a partial scholarship to attend Ottawa University on their bowling team. She is a self-described "bowling alley brat" who can always be found helping out with most big area tournaments. She has also been elected to the NCTUSBC board as a youth director this year.

The first Hall of Fame inductee of the evening was Jerry Woodard who was inducted posthumously for her incredible and selfless contributions to the youth program at AMF Euless. Woodard was the youth director for so many DFW kids and was always a smiling face leading the way. She had by far the largest support crowd, with over 40 family and friends present to see her honored.

Team USA, Hong Kong Win Trios at 2017 World Bowling Championships

LAS VEGAS - In a performance her teammates and coaches described as motivational, inspirational and heroic, Shannon O'Keefe essentially made her way from a hospital bed to the lanes at the South Point Bowling Plaza, where she helped Team USA to the trios gold medal at the 2017 World Bowling Championships.

Complications of a kidney stone sent O'Keefe to the emergency room Saturday night after team qualifying concluded, and the decision about whether or not she was going to be able to compete in the trios medal round Sunday morning came down to the minutes before their warm-up session got underway.

Adrenaline and determination carried her through wins against Indonesia and Germany, and the effort inspired her teammates, Kelly Kulick and Danielle McEwan.

As painful as it was, O'Keefe got comfortable and got her legs under her for the final, and she rolled her second-highest game of the week, a 238 effort, to help lift Team USA past Germany, 611-582. Kulick added 191, and McEwan had 182.

"It all feels like a blur because the pain is so bad, so I've literally just been trying to focus 10 seconds at a time to get through it," O'Keefe said. "As of 8:30 this morning, I looked at my husband and told him I didn't think I was going to make it, but I didn't want to let my teammates down. When I heard him on the phone telling Rod (Ross) I was going to have to withdraw, I knew I couldn't let them down. I had to at least try."

Janine Gabel led the way for Germany in the final with a 203 game, while Patricia Luoto and Tina Hulsch added 195 and 184, respectively. Hulsch had a 7-10 split in the ninth frame and a chopped 2-4-5-8 in the final frame that allowed the United States to remain in control.

Team USA head coach Rod Ross was able to sum up the win in just a few powerful words.

"It was inspirational, and that's the only way to describe it," Ross said. "It was a real gut check for Shannon and very special how her teammates rallied around her and worked with her. It was one of those performances we're going to remember for a long time."

On the way to the championship match, Kulick did the heavy lifting, shooting 246. McEwan added 212, and O'Keefe, who understandably got off to a slower start, doubled twice on the way to a 205 game and 663-610 win over Indonesia.

Kelly Kulick, Shannon O'Keefe and Danielle McEwan

Sharon Limansantoso shot 226 for Indonesia in the loss and was joined by Putty Armein (221) and Professional Women's Bowling Association standout Tannya Roumimper (163).

USA TEAM TITLE

right now," said Jones, who teamed with Chris Barnes for the doubles gold medal earlier in the week. "We were fortunate to get out of the semifinal watch with Colombia because we got a few more breaks than they did, and at the right time. We bowled fairly well as a team in the title match, everyone did their jobs and we were fortunate to come out on top." Team USA's semifinal win against top seed Colombia was about as dramatic as a match can get, with the spot in the final coming down to a roll-off, won by the United States, 47-46, after the two teams tied at 218 in the deciding game. Jones could've sent the United States to the final outright, but after striking to start the 10th frame, he left a 2 pin, giving Colombia anchor Andres Gomez a chance to strike out for the win. Gomez calmly tossed a double, including a Brooklyn strike on his second delivery, but his final shot drifted high, leaving a 3 pin and forcing overtime. Each player rolled one ball in the roll-off, and total pinfall determined who advanced. Jones caved in the 4-6-7-10 on his shot to send his team to the final. Despite not throwing its first strike until the seventh frame of the opening game, Colombia struck four consecutive times and rolled to a 201-173 win. The flurry of strikes continued in Game 2, where four strikes to start gave Colombia an early advantage. Team USA gained momentum with strikes in frames four through seven, and Jones delivered three more in the 10th to even the match with a 237-230 win. Jones struck 14 times on the day. Chinese Taipei, which found continued success this week on the challenging 39-foot Beijing oil pattern using the "spinner" release, advanced to the final with a 2-1 (215-184, 158-279 and 235-156) win over Denmark. The spinner style makes the lane condition less of a factor

Team USA, Korea Win Doubles at 2017 World Bowling Championships

Tommy Jones, Chris Barnes, Kim Moon Jeong and Jung Dawun

LAS VEGAS - Tommy Jones and Chris Barnes have been friends for decades and have combined for 25 appearances on Team USA, but they'd never had the opportunity to bowl doubles together while representing the United States in international competition.

The two were paired for the first time this week at the 2017 World Bowling Championships, and their doubles debut concluded Tuesday with Team USA's first gold medals at the South Point Bowling Plaza.

Barnes (218) and Jones (202) topped Hong Kong's Lau Kwun Ho (205) and Eric Tseng (204) in the men's final, 420-409, while Korea's Kim Moon Jeong (232) and Jung Dawun (222) downed top-seeded Sin Li Jane (207) and Shalin Zulkifli (190) of Malaysia, 454-397, in the women's finale.

Three consecutive strikes from Barnes, starting in the fourth frame, gave the United States a narrow lead at the halfway point of the match, and a clutch conversion of the 1-2-4-6-10 washout from Jones in the eighth frame kept the momentum in Team USA's favor.

"We were able to keep the pressure on them, especially with it being their first go at it," said Barnes, who teamed with John Szczerbinski to claim the doubles gold medal at the 2013 World Championships in nearby Henderson, Nevada. "That's probably where our experience comes into play, since we've bowled those matches before. You want to control the tempo if you can and make it as intense as possible because it's not a familiar situation for that many people."

Barnes and Jones shared the experience of winning team gold medals together at the World Championships in 2008 and 2010, but Team USA left the 2014 tournament in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates, without a gold medal.

This time, they're sharing the stage with Marshall Kent, who joined them in Abu Dhabi, and a trio of adult World Championships first-timers - Jakob Butturff, AJ Johnson and Chris Via. The team did not medal in singles earlier this week.

"Obviously, anytime you get to win for Team USA, it means a lot, and being able to win with one of my best friends makes it even more special," Jones said. "It's also really nice to get this gold medal early in the tournament to show the younger guys what it's all about and what it means to us and hopefully spark something for later in the week. We're here for one key thing, which is to win the team event, and it's nice to have that momentum."

Tuesday's doubles win was the sixth World Championships gold medal for Barnes, who won Masters in 2010 and all-events in 2013 to complement his two team titles and previous doubles victory.

While each win is special, there's the reality that future opportunities may be limited.

"They all mean a lot, but obviously, I know I don't have many more chances, since I'm closer to the end of my career than the beginning," Barnes said. "I enjoyed the opportunity to get to bowl with one of my best friends from the (Professional Bowlers Association) Tour over the years, and I feel today was a little more of a team effort. Yesterday was pretty much just Tommy dragging me there, but it was great to throw some great shots at the end to help him win the gold medal he kind of earned yesterday."

In the women's title match, Jung and Kim struck just three times in the first five frames, but a late flurry of strikes lifted them past Sin and Zulkifli.

Jung, the Masters gold medalist at the 2015 World Women's Championships in Abu Dhabi, struck on four of her last five offerings Tuesday, and Kim threw strikes on six of her final seven shots.

The Koreans made their way to the gold-medal match with a 427-414 win over defending champions Danielle McEwan (212) and Kelly Kulick (202). Kulick closed the match with back-to-back open frames.

"We were able to match up really well and control the pocket during qualifying to pace along with the rest of the field and earn a spot in the semifinals," Kulick said. "In the semifinals, I didn't feel the 2-4-10 I left in the ninth frame was a bad shot, and the one in the 10th pushed right even further. I'm disappointed, obviously, because I had a chance to keep us in it with three in the 10th, but I'm learning from this, so that in trios and team, I can step up when we need it."

The Malaysians topped a split-plagued Shannon O'Keefe (182) and Josie Barnes (152) of the United States, 363-334, to earn their meeting with Korea. Sin shot 204 in the win, and Zulkifli contributed 159. The Team USA duo combined for four splits in the first three frames and could not recover.

Four consecutive strikes from Jones in frames three through six helped him and Barnes pull away from Finland's Petteri Salonen (213) and Niko Oksanen (159) in the men's semifinals, despite Jones not striking again the rest of the way. Barnes (213) and Jones (202) won the match, 415-372.

Hong Kong's victory over Japan's Takuya Miyazawa and Shota Kouki came down to the final frame, and Tseng's strike on his first shot was enough to secure their place in the championship bout by a final margin of 415-405. Lau finished with 211 and Tseng had 204, while Miyazawa and Kouki had 216 and 189, respectively.

and uses deflection as the primary means of pin carry.

Team USA's title-match streak began in 1999, and the win in 2006 ended a 35-year drought for the United States men, who last had won team gold in 1971. The team's first win came in 1963, and additional silver medals were earned in 1975, 1983, 1999 and 2003.

"It was just phenomenal watching the performance of the players how they dug all week and fought and scraped today to get into the tiebreaker and then go on to win," Team USA head coach Rod Ross said. "We came here as a team, and it really was a total team effort."

On the women's side, Malaysia swept Singapore with scores of 214-209 and 188-177. Singapore held an advantage in both games but was unable to close things out.

In the opener, a 6-7-10 split from Singapore in the ninth frame gave control to Malaysia, which stayed clean to take the 1-0 lead in the match.

In Game 2, splits in the eighth and 10th frames proved to be the undoing for Singapore. Malaysia anchor Shalin Zulkifli left, and spared, the 3-6 combination in the final frame to seal the deal.

Zulkifli was joined in the win by fellow PWBA members Siti Rahman, the all-events silver medalist, Esther Cheah, Sin Li Jane, Syaidatul Hamidi and Natasha Roslan.

The win was the first for Malaysia at the World Championships since claiming the women's singles title in 2011, and first team gold medal since the 2007 event in Monterrey, Mexico. Cheah and Zulkifli also were members of that team.

"We really wanted a medal in the team event, and gold is a great bonus for us," Rahman said. "We are all very excited, and even people at home have been following along and cheering for us. After coming up short in doubles (Sin and Zulkifli earned silver), we were disappointed, but that motivated us today. Also, after I got the silver in all-events, I really wanted to be able to help the team get the gold today."

Malaysia is riding the momentum of a memorable year on the PWBA Tour, during which Rahman became the first Malaysian to win a Tour title, and Sin added her name to the list one event later. Singapore's roster Sunday included sisters Cherie Tan and Daphne Tan, Shayna Ng, New Hui Fen, Jazreel Tan and Joey Yeo. Cherie Tan and New both are PWBA champions, while Jazreel Tan won an event before becoming a PWBA member.

The Singapore women were the team silver medalists at the 2011 event in Hong Kong and earned bronze medals in 2009 and 2015. At the 2015 tournament in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates, Ng won all-events to become the first woman from Singapore to win a gold medal at the World Championships.

On the way to the all-PWBA final, Malaysia and Singapore both escaped close matches against Colombia and Korea, respectively.

Malaysia lost its opening game to Colombia, 207-198, but rallied back with wins of 248-166 and 182-181, even with an open 10th frame in the finale.

Singapore also fell behind early in its match against Korea, and an eight-count on the fill in the opening game gave Korea the chance to throw three strikes in the final frame for a 203-202 win. Singapore took control from there, winning 218-215 and 213-209.

Team USA's Danielle McEwan earned the women's all-events gold medal with a 5,126 total, a 213.58 average. Rahman claimed the silver medal with a 5,048 total, and Tsai Hsin-Yi of Chinese Taipei was the bronze medalist with 5,017.

The men's all-events title went to Chinese Taipei's Wu Hao-Ming, who started the event with the tournament's only perfect game and averaged more than 217 on the way to a 5,221 total.

Finland's Petteri Salonen earned the silver medal with a 5,151 total, and Team USA's Johnson earned his first international medal with a 5,134 total, a 213.92 mark.

TEAM USA TRIOS

pion, and what she did today was unbelievable," Kulick said. "We'd never want to jeopardize her health, but talk about the will of a champion. She didn't want to let us down, and when she decided to bowl, we promised we'd do our best to try to carry her. That's what we did the first game, but all of a sudden, she got a little comfortable and did what Shannon always does, she fired through it. She held her balance every shot, and it was unbelievable."

Germany topped Chinese Taipei in the other semifinal, 582-560.

Luoto led Germany with a 206 effort and was followed by Hulsch (192) and Gabel (184). Taipei's Pan Yu-Fen had 225 in the loss and was joined by Chou Chia-Chen (187) and Su Shu-Wen (148).

The trios win for Team USA marked the seventh World Championships title for O'Keefe and was a bittersweet win that came on the heels of a disappointing ending to the team event. Team USA, the defending team champions, missed the semifinals by two pins.

On the men's side, Hong Kong cruised to the trios gold medal with a 659-610 win against Chinese Taipei.

Eric Tseng set the pace for Hong Kong with a 237 game, including strikes on his last five shots, and he was joined by Michael Mak (222) and 2015 QubicaAMF Bowling World Cup champion Wu Sui Hong (200).

Xu Zhe-Jia had 235 in the loss for Chinese Taipei and was followed by men's all-events gold medalist Wu Hao-Ming (195) and Chen Wu-Chi (180).

Before this year's event at the Bowling Plaza, the Hong Kong men had never medaled at the World Championships. Tseng and Lau Kwun Ho were the doubles silver medalists, falling to Team USA's Chris Barnes and Tommy Jones in the final. Mak did earn a bronze medal at the 2016 World Singles Championships, a separate event held every four years, starting in 2012.

Hong Kong snuck past Finland in the trios semifinals, 616-613. Hong doubled in the final frame and got seven on his fill ball to secure the victory. He had 244 in the win and was followed by Tseng (215) and Mak (157).

Finland's Petteri Salonen, the all-events silver medalist, had 225 in the loss. Niko Oksanen had 207 and Joonas Jahi added 181. Salonen and Oksanen also earned bronze this week in doubles, falling to Barnes and Jones in the semifinals.

Chinese Taipei advanced to the final with a 613-559 win over top-seeded Japan. Chen had 221, Xu had 212 and Wu had 180. Shusaku Asato led Japan in the loss with 219 and was joined by Daisuke Yoshida (177) and Shogo Wada (163).

Later Sunday, Barnes and Jones will lead their Team USA teammates into the team semifinals. Competition is scheduled to get underway at 4:30 p.m. Eastern, live on the Olympic Channel.

The 2017 World Championships will conclude Monday with the Masters competition. The final two days of the tournament are being broadcast live on the Olympic Channel to a worldwide audience.

This year's tournament is a combined men's and women's event, which happens every four years.

The 2013 World Championships at nearby Sunset Station in Henderson, Nevada, also was a combined event.

Sean Lavery-Spahr Wins PBA Beaumont Southwest Open

Beaumont, Texas, – Sean Lavery-Spahr from Pasadena, Texas, defeated Shawn Maldonado of Houston, Texas, 221-211 in the deciding final game position round match, to win the 16th annual Professional Bowlers Association Beaumont Southwest Open at Crossroads Bowling Center Sunday. The victory was Lavery-Spahr's fourth career PBA Regional title.

Lavery-Spahr led the tournament after the qualifying rounds, and through most of the match play finals, before Maldonado grabbed a 13-pin lead before the final game. With the 30 bonus pins awarded for winning the match, the title was in doubt until the final frame when Lavery-Spahr left a 7-10 split, seemingly handing Maldonado the victory. However, Maldonado failed to convert the 2-4-5-8 spare in his 10th frame and Lavery-Spahr claimed the $3,000 first place check.

Nathan Bohr from Austin, Texas, moved from his seventh place qualifying score to third place for the position round match where he defeated Anthony Lavery-Spahr (Sean's twin brother), 255-207, to jump passed Maldonado into second place. Sean Lavery-Spahr finished the event with 4,986 total pins, including the match play bonus pins. Bohr followed with a 4,791 pinfall total, 12 pins ahead of Maldonado. Bohr collected $1,750 for second, Maldonado won $1,300 for third place.

The PBA Southwest Region's final event in 2017 will be the PBA/PBA50 Houston Southwest Doubles presented by Mike Austin's Bowling Dynamix at Emerald Bowl in Houston, December 15-17.

High game for the tournament was Sambo Butler with a 267 game.

The TBC format allows the top 6 qualifiers an automatic seed to the match play. Bowlers who qualified in places 7 thru 12 for both boys and girl's division would then bowl one more game with two highest one game scores earning a spot in the match play.

The four winners into the top 8 match were Caitlyn Chapman, Sara Taylor, Conner Mixson, and Joshua Walker.

The other 8 bowlers not making the top 8 cut received ½ off entry to next month's TBC monthly tournament in December at USA Bowl in Dallas.

The boys and girls making the cut to the top 8 match play then bowled 8 games of head-to-head match play. After 8 games of match play, the field was cut to the top 4 for boys and girls for TV stair step Finals. The Teen Bowlers Circuit always offers a separate boys and girls divisions.

The Boys champion was first time champion Mason Sterkel of Lawton, OK.

In the opening stair step match Sterkel defeated Gannon Takayesu of Flower Mound, TX 194-189.

In the second match, Sterkel defeated Conner Mixson of Lewisville, TX 204-133.

In the championship match, Mason Sterkel defeated Sambo Butler 189-171.

Canada, Korea Win Masters Titles at 2017 World Bowling Championships

LAS VEGAS - If there was one pair of lanes in the world Francois Lavoie of Canada would want in his basement, it would be lanes 23 and 24 from the South Point Bowling Plaza.

The 24-year-old right-hander conquered those lanes again Monday, this time winning the Masters gold medal at the 2017 World Bowling Championships.

That is the same set of lanes where he became the first bowler in history to roll a perfect game during the televised finals of a U.S. Open (2016), and he went on to win the coveted title and green jacket.

His most recent win at the Bowling Plaza was a 2-0 victory against Xu Zhe-Jia of Chinese Taipei by scores of 247-206 and 216-199.

The deciding game came down to the 10th frame, with the two players separated by a single pin.

Lavoie left a 5 pin on his first delivery, converted the spare and struck on the fill ball to force Xu to strike for the win. Xu also could've gone nine-spares and struck on his own fill ball to force a tie, but he left the 4-6-7-10 split on his initial offering.

"I found out right before the match that I had some history on that pair, but I didn't think about the U.S. Open at all because that was an entirely different event and different pattern," said Lavoie, who owns three Professional Bowlers Association Tour titles. "I was feeling pretty good from the matches before, and I wanted to continue doing what I'd been doing throughout the day today."

The win Monday was a special way for Lavoie and his teammates to end a tournament in which they bowled well, but came up just short of the medal rounds a couple of times.

Lavoie had top-10 finishes in singles (10th), trios (fifth), team (eighth) and all-events (sixth). In the trios performance, with Mitch Hupe and Zachary Wilkins, they missed the medal round by eight pins.

"This is big for Canada," Lavoie said. "We've been close the entire week, it feels like. We've been close, but never quite got the medal. Obviously, this is a team effort. My teammates were here with me since 11 this morning, and they're very supportive. It's nice to have them behind me, and it helps to not feel alone out there."

Of course, it's hard to compare the various levels of success Lavoie has experi-

THE SOUTHWEST REPORT

If You Can't Hit What You're Looking at, Look at What You're Hitting!

Comfort is whatever you're used to doing. Period. It's not necessarily right (or wrong); it's just comfortable. When a student is working on changing something, I often hear, "That feels uncomfortable." Well, thank goodness! You've got to change something to change something.

You have a part of your game that is your most common error. It's invariably something "comfortable," but incorrect. You'll often revert to it under pressure. You and your coach must identify whatever this is and figure a key or trigger or distracter that either prevents you from going back to that quirk or helps you identify instantly you've done it again so you can get back to the real bowler in you.

It could be that when you are tired, you slow down. Maybe when you play deep inside, you miss to the inside (or send it out in the weeds). Perhaps you have a tight armswing when you need to convert the baby split. Once these areas have been identified, you and your coach can experiment until you find a fix. Perhaps it's drinking more water (which is one of the most invigorating things you can do). Maybe it's working on different body alignments until you discover what allows you to get inside and prevents you from throwing it out in the weeds. You could shoot the bucket from every dot and every arrow until it's a no-brainer for you.

I can't let that comment about water go unembellished. We all know that water is important. I just want to share a few things with you about how REALLY beneficial to your bowling, (not to mention your life), it can be. It is thought that a majority of Americans are chronically dehydrated. Some researchers think it is likely that statement applies to half the world's population. In many occasions, thirst is often mistaken for hunger. Even mild dehydration will slow down your metabolism. One glass of water can shut down midnight hunger pangs. I think it works on those just-before-you-go-to-bed-ice-cream pangs as well!

Lack of water is the #1 trigger of daytime fatigue. When you feel those 2 p.m. yawns coming on, get a glass of water. You'll find the fog lifts and you can concentrate and function better. This actually works anytime you get foggy, not just at 2:00 in the afternoon. A lack of water can trigger fuzzy short-term memory, trouble with basic math, difficulty focusing on the computer screen or a printed page, as well as remembering where you were standing on the left lane. Research indicates that 8-10 glasses of water a day could significantly ease back and joint pain. Drinking five glasses of water daily may decrease the risk of certain types of cancer including colon, breast, and bladder.

I'll try not to sprain an ankle jumping down from my soapbox. It's a rare individual indeed who can repair their game in competition. For us Muggles, repair kits are available during lessons with our coach, not in the heat of the battle. Let's say you're pulling the ball frequently. So what? If you have a place you store the fix for that, get it out of that mental file drawer and happily proceed to "no pull" heaven. If you don't have the key to that drawer or you suspect it's empty, you don't have time to analyze and dissect why it's happening. Move to where you're pulling it! If you can't hit what you're looking at, look at what you're hitting!

This means move so that your body alignment is with the area of the lane with which you are struggling. That should, first of all, get you more comfortable. Then one of three things will happen:

-The move will fix whatever was off in your physical game and you can move back;
-You can just stay there if the move worked;
-You can keep moving if you keep pulling it.
Whatever. The point is that you not continue to stand there and pull it thinking, "On this next shot, I am going to throw it better." If you could throw it better, you would already be doing that. And another thing

Boys First Place Team: Judson Rockets High School

Bryan Burr High School Kickoff Tournament

GOERGETOWN, TX - The boys Judson Rockets qualified 8th in the boys division in the Annual Bryan Burr High School Tournament held Saturday, November 4th, but that didn't slow them down.

The Rockets defeated number one seed Samuel Clemens 336-310 in the first bracket match.

Next, they faced off with Heritage high School from Frisco, eliminating them 315-307.

Judson then faced off with the Round rock Dragons in the title match to win 365-336.

In the girls division, San Antonio Health Careers qualified third going into the bracket finals.

The Phoenix defeated Stony Point 318-201 in their first match.

Next, they eliminated Judson 347-254 on their way to the title match against Allen.

The Phoenix came out on top beating the Eagles 370-278.

We had a total of 14 boys teams and 9 girls teams in this record event.

This tournament is a memorial for Bryan Burr, a Special Olympics High School bowler that bowled on the Stony Point Tigers team in 2010.

All of the proceeds from the event are donated to his school districts Special Olympics program in his honor.

Trophies and medals were awarded to the top 3 teams in each division.

The format was two regular games followed by six baker games with the top eight in each division advancing to the Bracket finals, two game totals used to decide winners of each match.

The Champions were the Judson Rockets for the boys with Round Rock as the Runner up and Health Careers San Antonio Phoenix for the girls with Allen Eagles as the runner up.

Girls First Place Team: Health Careers San Antonio Phoenix

enced, from college bowling to the professional ranks to internationally while wearing the Canadian colors.

"This is different, and definitely up there," Lavoie said. "It's special to win for your country. We don't do it for the money, we do it for the pride. It's a special feeling. Hearing the national anthem is something I want to do at least once more in my life, and I'm sure every time it happens, I'm going to want to do it once more."

Lavoie defeated Colombia's Andres Gomez, 2-0 (214-203, 221-200), to earn his spot in the final, and Xu topped Thomas Larsen of Denmark, 2-0 (203-180, 224-199), to advance.

Chinese Taipei found continued success this week on the challenging 39-foot Beijing oil pattern using the "spinner" release, which makes the lane condition less of a factor and uses deflection as the primary means of pin carry.

The Chinese Taipei players advanced to the medal round in every event but doubles, earning silver medals in singles, trios, team and Masters, along with the all-events gold medal for Wu Hao-Ming, who rolled the only perfect game of the tournament. The 300 came in his first game on the tournament lanes.

There was a bit of familiarity on the women's side Monday as well, with Jung Dawun of Korea being the defending Masters champion.

She earned the Masters gold medal at the 2015 World Women's Championships in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates, and she successfully defended her title with a 2-0 win against Professional Women's Bowling Association titlist Sin Li Jane of Malaysia.

In wins of 256-225 and 236-221, in the best-of-three format, Jung struck 16 times and was in control the entire match.

Jung, who won doubles earlier in the week with Kim Moon Jeong, advanced to the gold-medal match with a 2-0 (220-166, 233-214) win over Singapore's Shayna Ng, while Sin earned her chance to bowl for the gold by defeating Sharon Limansantoso of Indonesia, 2-1 (216-169, 178-218, 223-163).

ships officially came to a close with the conclusion of the Masters event, which included the top 24 men and top 24 women from the all-events standings.

After 24 games of qualifying this week at the Bowling Plaza, six games in singles, doubles, trios and team, total pinfall determined the all-events medalists (gold, silver and bronze), and the top 24 in each division advanced to Monday's match play.

The top eight players from the all-events standings received a one-round bye, while the best-of-three match play got underway for the other 16 competitors.

Each round, the highest remaining seed was matched against the lowest remaining seed, and the final four bowlers in each division advanced to the semifinals. All four semifinal losers earned bronze medals.

day, and you're going to see some pretty entertaining action.

According to the event packet, actor/comedian Oscar Nunez will be appearing in an upcoming State Farm ad campaign as Chris Paul's insurance agent. He does have a little game on our pines, as you will see in the Celebrity Super Clash Eliminator Match, featuring two moves I don't know if his 'The Office' character or current Father Doug character on 'People of Earth' would try, but nonetheless nearly show-stopping.

The night began with a Celeb/Pro Doubles five-frame competition, a Baker format team match with both celebrities and pros, the Celebrity Eliminator Super Clash (always fun to watch the trash talking here), and the finals of the Celeb/Pro Doubles.

Like the Main Event Terrell Owens PBA Super Clash in February, this event also featured two up-and-coming bowlers we've heard a little bit about already. This year's Teen Masters Junior Varsity (14 and under) Girls Champ Hannah Diem, and Boys Junior Varsity (14U) runner up Logan Harvey each bowled in the Baker Format team match. You'll also read their comments on how much fun they had bowling on national TV in the February BJI recap.

The McKendree Univesity Women's Bowling team received a rare honor for a bowling team last month. They and eighteen other NCAA national champions were honored at a White House reception with President Donald Trump. According to a press release on the school's website, all nine members of the 2016-17 team were on hand, along with Head Coach Shannon O'Keefe, assistant coach Bryan O'Keefe, graduate assistant Matt Farber, and McKendree athletic director Chuck Brueggemann.

The Fox 2 St. Louis website showed a video of the playing of the McKendree fight song and a photo op with the President, with him holding a McKendree banner amongst the Bearcat group.

Next week to wrap up the final JPA of 2017, a look back at a wild sports year fifty years ago bookended by two bitter losses older Cowboy fans still believe could have gone the other way. Hopefully, I'll have a chat with a player from those games and his surprising bowling connection.

USA players made a run in the Masters event, head coach Rod Ross was very satisfied with the team's performance during the World Championships, which included gold medals in men's doubles, women's trios, men's team and women's all-events, along with a pair of bronze medals in women's doubles and bronze in men's all-events.

"I'm very proud of all our players and the coaching staff," Ross said. "Everyone came in very prepared. They never quit fighting, and I'm proud of how they endured on a tough condition. To leave with a team world championship is huge. To also win the trios, doubles and all-events is incredibly special, too."

THE SOUTHWEST REPORT

Just Paying Attention

By Mark London
Mark@TheBowlingNews.net

Another star-studded State Farm CP3 PBA Celebrity Invitational presented by Go Bowling! is in the books, well, sort of. It will air Super Bowl Sunday on ESPN at 1:00 pm Central as of this writing, but I was fortunate to see it recorded this past week at AMF Bowlero Woodlands on Houston's north side. Can't divulge the results until then, as you will read here in TBN and my recap for the February edition of

Houston Rocket James Hardin

Miller masters 806, Miller-Mackie racks up 728

Pinge 300/805, Apolonio, Chavez, Espinda, A Johnson, R Johnson, Jones 300's, Bramblett, Martin, Williams 299's

RIO RANCHO, NM – Mike Miller, from the Senior Trios league, was the high bowler for the month at Tenpins & More by rolling an award-winning 268-259-279 = 806 series.

Sam Pingue followed close behind Miller with an award-winning 300/805 Draft Classic outing.

Dana Miller-Mackie led the honor roll for the month for the ladies with an outstanding 246-225-257 = 728 Thursday Doubles set.

Christian Apolonio, Carl Chavez, Eric Espinda, Aaron Johnson, Raymond Johnson and Jeff Jones shared high-game accolades with Pingue as each recorded award-winning 12-baggers. Kristen Bramblett, Jeremiah Martin and Kano Williams took runner-up honors with near-perfect 299 solos.

'Bowlers Journal International', but I can tell you it will be as truly entertaining as the other celebrity shows so far, including this past year's live Super Bowl Sunday event in Katy.

What I can show you are a couple of photographs from the red carpet entrance by bowlers and celebrities. As you might expect, Houston Rocket James Harden garnered quite a bit of attention from the local media, especially with his hot start this young NBA season, followed by fellow Rocket Trevor Ariza, event host and newest Rocket Chris Paul, and Boston Red Sox' Mookie Betts.

If you've never seen a red carpet entrance, it was really fun to see one this up close and interact with the athletes and celebs as they talked with us media types. Featuring a little shorter red carpet than you might see at the Academy Awards, I counted five local television stations, along with Jef Goodjer and Jeremiah Gallegos, 'The Voice of Houston' (voice-over artist heard in-arena at Rockets games, Houston Dynamo MLS matches and others) for PBA XtraFrame, Kimberly Pressler, PBA sideline reporter on ESPN (her Q&A segments will be seen on the telecast and later on XtraFrame), and our friends at GoBowling!, who talked with the bowlers and celebs alike on their early days in the game, family bowling experience, and early influences in their careers. Heard some really heart-tugging answers to their questions and can't wait to see the finished product.

This being a charity event, don't think its all fun and games. These are still some pretty competitive people, no matter what the contest, add a few hundred people watching on site, and oh, by the way, five HD television cameras and lighting with quite a bit of candlepower for the potentially one million-plus viewers that

YOUTH BOWLER OF THE MONTH

Asia Wren

Asia Wren, 18, from Round Rock, TX is a Senior at Stony Point High School. She bowled her first perfect game in November in the Austin City Youth Tournament, the first female youth 300 ever shot at Mel's Lone Star Lanes.

Hometown Bowling Center: Mel's Lone Star Lanes

How many leagues: I'm only bowling one league right now, but bowled three in the summer.

High Game: 300, I was pretty nervous, but somehow held my composure, got lucky on the second shot, but the last one was my best.

Other Sports/Hobbies: I've played volleyball for eight years, but bowling is my favorite, I'm better at it.

Favorite Bowler: Shannon O'Keefe. She is one that I watch a lot to see if I can make my game look like hers.

Favorite bowling accomplishment: I finally shot the 300 game after eight years. I shot 299 in April, but shooting 300 has always been my goal. It shows that my hard work has paid off.

How was your Junior Gold experience: The best part is getting to meet new people, and gives me a new perspective on competition. There were kids there from Puerto Rico, so to get to meet bowlers from all over the world was great.

What are your plans for college: I will be attending Prairie View A&M on a bowling scholarship. Watching collegiate bowling on TV and in person is a whole new world that I've never experienced. It's exciting that I will get to be a part of it. I will start off studying business, but don't know specifically what area yet.
